IN A FIRST, INDIA VOTES AGAINST RUSSIA ON UKRAINE AT UNSC

The UN Security Council held a procedural vote on Thursday on Ukrainian president's virtual participation in its meeting

RUSSIA OPPOSES LEADER'S VIRTUAL ATTENDANCE

Russian demanded a procedural vote on Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy's virtual participation in a UNSC meeting called to take stock of the Ukraine war. Russia insisted it does not oppose his participation, but said he must attend the meeting in person. Backing Zelenskyy, Albania said he can't leave Ukraine as the war situation requires him to be there

13 OF 15 MEMBERS VOTE AGAINST RUSSIA

- In the 15-member UNSC, India and 12 other countries voted to let Zelenskyy participate in the meeting through video teleconference. While Russia voted against it, China abstained
- Later, Zelenskyy in his remarks to the UNSC called for Russia to be held accountable for its crime of aggression against Ukraine

Ferozepur SSP indicted for lax security to PM

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

A five-member judicial committee appointed by the Supreme Court that probed the alleged security lapse during Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Punjab in January last, indicted the then Ferozepur Senior Superintendent of Police for the slip up. Retired Supreme Court judge Indu Malhotra headed the panel.

Reading from to its report, a bench led by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana on Thursday said the Punjab police officer had failed to discharge his duties of maintaining law and order or taking any steps for deploying additional force for strengthening the security.

"The SSP Ferozepur Harmandeep Singh Hans failed to discharge his duty to maintain law and order. He failed to do this even though sufficient force was available and even though he was informed two hours before that the PM will enter that route," the bench said citing the report.

The panel recommended the formation of an "Oversight Committee" for periodic revision of the Blue Book that deals with VVIP security. On Jan 5, Modi's convoy was stranded on a flyover allegedly due to a blockade by farmers in Ferozepur. This had resulted in the PM returning from Punjab without attending any event.

In a late night development, the report got uploaded on the SC website but was taken down, resealed and kept in the custody of the SC Secretary General. The bench directed the Registry to send a copy of the report to the state and Central governments for further action.

Poll panel recommends Soren disqualification

Speculation within the JMM on CM's wife Kalpana as his successor

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

JHARKHAND Chief Minister Hemant Soren appeared to be on his way out on Thursday as the Election Commission of India (ECI) is understood to have recommended his disqualification as a legislator to Governor Ramesh Bais. Raj Bhavan, however, did not officially confirm the receipt of the ECI's report.

Section 9A of the Representation of the People Act (RPA), 1951 bars lawmakers from entering into any contract with the government for supply of goods or execution of works undertaken by it. Yet, Soren brazenly granted himself a stone mining lease, which put him in big trouble.

Under Article 192 of the Constitution, the governor can take his call on an MLA's disqualification only after seeking the poll panel's view.

There was speculation right through the day as Governor Ramesh Bais arrived in the city but was evasive. "I was in AIIMS, Delhi for two days. I will be in a position to make a decision only when I reach Raj Bhavan," he said at the airport.

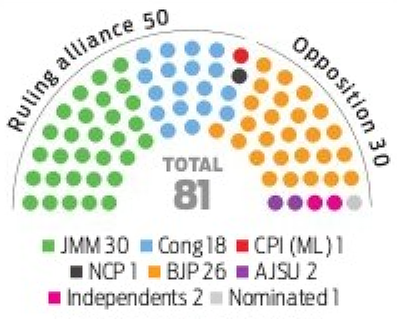
AS THINGS STAND



HALFWAY MARK 41

Till the time of filing this report, the JMM hadn't received any communication from the governor indicating his decision on the matter, keeping the party on tenterhooks.

The day began with BJP MP Nishikant Dubey claiming the ECI had recommended Soren's disqualification in the office-for-profit case. The JMM hit back, demanding Dubey's disqualification.

Amid the swirling uncertainty, the JMM called its legislature party meeting on Friday to deal with the emerging situation. If Soren is disqualified, it will not only push him out of power but also increase instability in the government at a time when the BJP is allegedly waiting to poach lawmakers from the ruling coalition.

While the JMM went ballistic against the BJP, a senior leader admitted, "There is an inherent danger that the ECI would also debar Soren from contesting any election for a certain time period." In such a situation, either Soren's wife Kalpana or JMM patriarch Shibu Soren could be the successor, he added. Parallelly, the JMM leadership was preparing for a legal challenge.

On February 10, a BJP delegation gave the governor a memorandum demanding the disqualification of Soren. Taking cognizance of it, the governor forwarded the matter to the poll panel for its opinion.

Martyrs' kin to get only govt job, no ₹50 lakh, site

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka cabinet on Thursday decided to give government jobs to family members of martyrs, but will not give ex-gratia and other facilities. This has come in for sharp criticism by ex-servicemen.

Law Minister JC Madhuswamy told reporters that the cabinet had approved giving government jobs to family members or dependents of martyrs, under compensatory grounds.

They will not get 60x40 sqft sites and Rs 50 lakh, and this will be applicable to all those who have not availed of aid from the State government, he said.

"In Karnataka, there are over 400 such families, of which 200 are eligible to get jobs on compensatory grounds, as per our initial estimation," he said.

Brigadier Ravi Muniswamy, former director, Department of Sainik Welfare and Resettlement, said many states in India are giving government jobs without exams, along with land and compensation amount. "The Karnataka government is doing the least for family members of martyrs. By giving a job, the government is not doing a favour. It is not interested in providing any facilities," he said.

Brigadier Muniswamy said that as per rules, the state government has to give two acres of irrigated land or eight acres of dry land, but the government does not go by them.

Case against city school for physical abuse of 4-yr-old

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THE police have registered a complaint against Bishop Cotton Boys School, following allegations of physical abuse against a four-year-old boy.

The child's parent, Rivu Chakraborty, told TNIE that his son had been repeatedly hit for "being naughty" in class by his teacher, only a week after classes began in July.

Following numerous complaints from his son and a meeting with school authorities, Chakraborty approached Cubbon Park Police Station to register a complaint against the school.

The police registered a non-cognisable report (NCR) against the school on August 18.

Police inspect the mangled remains of the MUV, which met with a gruesome accident on NH-48, killing nine people, in Tumakuru district on Thursday | EXPRESS

9 killed, 13 injured in Tumakuru accident

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

IN a ghastly accident, nine people, including three women and two children, died on the spot and 13 others were injured when a a multi-utility vehicle (MUV) jumped over a median and was hit by a lorry from behind at Balenahalli Gate on NH-48 near Sira early on Thursday morning.

The accident drew the attention of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Droupadi Murmu. "The accident in Tumakuru district, Karnataka is heart-rending. Condolences to the bereaved families. Prayers with the injured. Rs 2 lakh from PMNRF would be paid to the next of kin of each deceased. The injured would be paid Rs 50,000," the Prime Minister's Office tweeted.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai too announced Rs 5 lakh each to the kin of deceased and said the treatment cost of the injured would be borne by the government.

"The loss of lives, including that of children and women, in a road accident in Tumakuru, Karnataka is extremely unfortunate. My deepest condolences to the bereaved families. I pray for the speedy recovery of the injured," tweeted Murmu.

The MUV was carrying migrant families from remote villages of Kalaburagi and Raichur districts to Bengaluru.

There were 24 people, including 10 women and six children, in the MUV when the accident occurred. The survivors said the driver was dozing off on the wheel and lost control while trying to overtake a truck. The MUV jumped over the median and was hit by the speeding lorry around 3.30 am. The MUV was tossed into the air and toppled killing the nine people instantly. Two of the injured, who are critical, were shifted to NIMHANS, while the rest were admitted to the district general hospital.

"We were daily wage workers and bound to Bengaluru to earn a living," said a survivor, Shivaraju (16), who is a school dropout.

NDTV say SEBI nod needed to buy Roys' stake

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EMBATTLED news channel NDTV on Thursday cited a market regulator bar in a different matter to at least temporarily ward off predatory attempts by the Adani group to acquire management control over the company. Analysts feel this may escalate into a legal war over NDTV's ownership.

NDTV claimed the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) had barred its founder-promoters for two years from dealing in their shares directly or indirectly. The two-year fiat expires on November 26.

In other words, the Adanis would need prior SEBI approval to secure 99.5% interest in the promoter group RRPR, controlled by Prannoy and Radhika Roy. For, "this would lead to acquisition of voting rights in respect of 29.18% of the issued share capital of Target Company (RRPR)," NDTV said.

The claim comes two days after the Adani Group announced its indirect acquiring of 29% stake in NDTV after which it had asked the holding firm — RRPR — to transfer by Thursday all its equity shares to Vishvapradhan Commercial Pvt Ltd (VCPL), controlled by Adani.

"It has now come down to the minutes of the previous order by SEBI in 2019 and by the Securities Appellate Tribunal this year. SEBI's order appears to be against the Roys for insider trading and isn't applicable to RRPR holdings. However, they are using everything to avoid the takeover and the matter seems to be heading to court," a top lawyer told this daily.

5 PHONES INFECTED; NO PEGASUS CLARITY

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

PERUSING a report submitted by a committee it constituted to look into the allegations of unauthorised surveillance using Pegasus software, the Supreme Court on Thursday observed that the Centre was not cooperative with the panel.

"(In) one sentence committee has observed that the Government of India was not cooperative and whatever stand you had taken here you had also taken there," Chief Justice of India N V Ramana said. The bench noted that the technical committee said that out of 29 phones it examined, five contained some malware but there was no conclusive evidence on finding Pegasus, a phone-hacking tool hawked by Israeli company NSO Group.

The final report comprised three parts: digital images of phones examined, report of the technical committee and report by the overseeing judge Justice Raveendran. Justice Raveendran's report recommended enhancing the country's cyber security and establishing mechanisms for citizens to raise grievances.

The court said it would make Justice Raveendran's report public. On the technical committee's report, which also contains confidential material extracted from examined mobiles, the bench will decide which parts could be made public. The matter will now be considered after four weeks.

In October last year, the court had appointed the technical committee comprising three members under the supervision of Justice Raveendran to look into the allegations of illegal surveillance using Pegasus.

In a late night development, the report got uploaded on the SC website but was taken down, resealed and kept in custody of the SC Secretary General.

Maintain status quo on Idgah Maidan, says HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

PASSING directions to maintain a status quo on the disputed Idgah Maidan at Chamarajpet in Bengaluru, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday said the land should be used as a playground, while the Muslim community can offer prayers two days a year on Ramzan and Bakrid and not any other day.

Justice Hemant Chandangoudar passed the interim order after hearing a petition filed by the Karnataka State Board of Auqaf, a statutory body created under the Waqf Act, and another petitioner and adjourned the hearing to September 23, 2022.

The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike joint commissioner on August 6, 2022 rejected the petitioner's application to register a khata by computerising the property measuring 2 acres 5 guntas in Survey No. 40 in the name of Karnataka State Wakf Board.

City startup to send 40 satellites to compile space debris data

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

THE race to space has the downside of polluting it. A Bengaluru-based start-up plans to send out a constellation of 40 satellites that will gather data on space junk in the low-earth orbit (LEO).

The satellites that will be launched from early next year will gather information on millions of pieces of debris that litter LEO, which NASA describes as an "orbital space junk yard". Digantara, the start-up launched by three young engineers, has taken upon itself the mission to help clean up LEO.

Space junk can reach speeds of up to 18,000 miles per hour, according to NASA. Many of them range from 1 cm to 10 cm in diameter. Most of these orbital debris comprise "human-generated" objects such as parts of spacecraft that have long disintegrated, rocket and satellite components, very small flecks of paint from spacecraft and whole satellites. "The ones which are 1 cm in diameter are estimated to be a million. Besides, international space agencies have determined that they are aware of only 4% of objects in space. The data for 96% is still missing," said Digantara chief operating officer Rahul Rawat, who is only 23 years old.

Digantara, which is incubated at Bengaluru's Indian Institute of Science, sent out a small satellite, a payload about the "size of a shoe box", according to the start-up's CEO Anirudh Sharma, on June 30 this year to gather information on space weather, including radiation, violent storms and other phenomena that can be potentially harsh for spacecraft and burn or fry them.

While this lone satellite has been sending out data to ground sensors, Rawat pointed to the Elon Musk's SpaceX Starlink constellation of 40 of 49 satellites that were "lost in a single blow" when they encountered a gigantic "solar paroxysm" that burned the spacecraft and cost the company $100 million in February 2022.

It is precisely to avoid satellites getting caught up in such "solar outbursts" or other violent geomagnetic incidents that Digantara expects its own satellites – and the information it will send back to its ground sensors – to come to the rescue of space companies with ambitions of sending out satellites.

"We are the only start-up of its kind in India though there are competitors in the US and Canada," Rawat said, adding the gathered data can help firms that are into remote sensing and insurance where risk analysis reports will be important.

DRAFT VOTERS' LIST FOR BBMP ELECTIONS OUT

Objections can be filed till September 2

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A draft voters' list for BBMP election, 2022 was published on Thursday evening on www.bbmp.gov.in. With this, the Palike moves a step closer to holding polls to the city corporation. State Election Commission Commissioner Basavaraju and Palike Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath held a joint press conference regarding the publication of 243 ward-wise draft voters' list.

As per the Commission, there are a total 79,08,394 voters in BBMP limits, of which 41,09,496 are male and 37,97,497 are female, and 1,401 are third gender. Objections can be filed till September 2, and the final draft after correction and revision will be out on September 22. Basavaraju explained that a ward, Kudlu in Anekal, has a minimum of 18,604 voters, and in Thanisandra in Byatarayanapura, there are a maximum of 51,653 voters.

Bengaluru voters whose names have been left out or if there are any corrections in the draft list should inform the nodal or registration officers. In 2010, voter turnout in Bengaluru elections was 44 per cent, and in 2015 it was 49 per cent.

"I urge all voters to come out and vote in large numbers. Voters should pay utmost attention in choosing their representatives," said Basavaraju.

Girinath informed that all political parties will be appealed to provide booth-level agents to coordinate with the revenue officers concerned to encourage more people register and vote. "As Bengaluru traditionally witnesses low voting percentage in elections, awareness programmes will be held. We will appeal to new and first-time voters to turn out in large numbers on polling day," he said.

Reservation of wards: Govt, Palike, SEC get HC notice

BENGALURU: Justice Hemant Chandangoudar of the Karnataka High Court on Thursday issued notice to the state government, BBMP and State Election Commission (SEC) on a plea filed against the reservation notification to hold Palike elections. The petitioner K Mahadeva, a resident of Ejipura ward in city, challenged the reservation notification dated August 16, 2022 issued by the Urban Development Department (UDD) for 243 wards, and contended that he is aggrieved by the action of the UDD which has demarked General (woman) to Ejipura ward though it was meant for Scheduled Caste. Ejipura ward is demarked in such a way that it holds more than 6,717 Scheduled Caste population in the BTM Layout constituency, he said. The reservations in this constituency are made in a way that there is only one General category and the rest are reserved for women. He had filed objections to the draft notification which was not considered, he claimed, and prayed that a balance must be ensured between male and female reservations. He contended that total reservation should not exceed one-third of the total seats in corporation. At present, total seats reserved for ward is 113, and hence, total seats reserved exceeds one-third of total seats in the corporation, he alleged.

NEP for 3-6 year olds from next academic yr: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NATIONAL Education Policy (NEP) 2020 is all set to be implemented from the coming academic year, said Education Minister BC Nagesh on Thursday, during a joint presser with Women and Child Development Minister Halappa Achar.

He said that the implementation of Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE) as per the NEP recommendations will begin in 20,000 Anganwadis and schools on a trial basis in the coming academic year. It will be applicable for children aged between three and six.

Six committees have been formed to formulate the curriculum framework for ECCE, he said, which will cover curriculum design, teaching, learning materials, evaluation, capacity development, community outreach, childhood encouragement, and monitoring.

Education Minister BC Nagesh addresses the media on Thursday | EXPRESS

"The central education department is likely to make the syllabus available by this September, following which the state curriculum framework will be finalised. Anganwadi workers have already received training," Nagesh said.

Achar said that their training will be completed by the start of the next academic year. At present, the workers are being given three types of training based on their qualifications.

More than 40,000 anganwadi workers have SSLC qualification, over 14,000 have passed PUC, 6,000 are graduates, and 732 are postgraduates, he said.

Earlier, the minister said that anganwadis will be the first to implement NEP, and added that the Chili Pili Plus curriculum has been implemented, and it will be improved in the coming academic year.

Security cover for every Ganesha idol not possible, says city top cop

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOR Ganesha festival, city police commissioner Pratap Reddy, during a law and order meeting with BBMP at Town Hall on Thursday, said that it is not possible to deploy police personnel and provide security for every Ganesha idol.

He said that the people at their respective places have to work as volunteers, and install CCTVs. "Adopting such steps will ensure that the festival and the programmes are held smoothly," said Reddy.

Regarding Covid-19 regulations, the rules will be the same as it was in 2019. He said that the police and BBMP will implement the rules so that citizens do not face any problems. During emergencies, for ambulances and fire engines to pass, there should be a plan, and the volunteers and staffers should be deployed at important junctures, he said.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath and Police Commissioner Pratap Reddy on Thursday | EXPRESS

To benefit everyone, the state government has implemented a single window system. BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said, "Let's celebrate Ganeshotsav with a bang. This single window system has been made to cut down on restrictions." Everyone has to apply to get permission.

"Deployment of personnel will be increased during immersion," said Girinath, adding that the Kalyanis are being cleaned, and that cranes and mobile tankers are being arranged.

Joint Commissioner of Police Ravikanthe Gowda, Additional Commissioner of Police (East) Subramanya, Additional Commissioner of Police (West) Sandeep Patil, Bescom MD Mahantesh, KSPCB Member Secretary Srinivasulu, District Fire Officer Hemant, organisers of Ganesh Pratisthan, and various community leaders were present in the meeting.

BBMP had rejected Wakf Board plea

Rejecting the plea, the joint commissioner stated that the civil cases quoted by the petitioners are only for obtaining a permanent injunction and not connected to the ownership of the land. Only congregational rights for conducting mass prayers to the Muslim community were granted in a civil appeal before the Supreme Court in 1964, the Joint Commissioner said in the order.

"In accordance with the documents submitted before the courts in the civil suits, right for mass prayers by the Muslim community was placed in respect of the Survey No. 40 of Guttahalli village and no arguments with regard to the ownership or possession of Muslim community has been made. When the decision of the Supreme Court is taken into consideration, under Section 36 of Mysore Land Revenue Code Act, and when it is not effectively proved as to who is the owner for this property, it can be considered that it is the property of the revenue department of the state government, till now from then," the joint commissioner said.

Challenging this order, the petitioners contended that Idgah Maidan was notified as a wakf property on June 7, 1965 under the Mysore Wakfs Act, 1954. There is a grave threat of demolition to sensitive religious structures if the impugned order is not stayed. It was also contended that the order would cause jeopardy to the petitioners and the Central Muslim Association of Karnataka who have already succeeded in earlier litigations.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi submitted that the notification under 1954 Act is not binding on the state government or BBMP, and the land vests with the government under the Mysore Land Revenue Code and Karnataka Land Revenue Act. The court passed the interim order, observing that it has to consider whether the notification issued under 1954 Act is binding on the state government.

PETER VIDAL

26th August: There are two planetary alignments coming up which are about as passionate, mystical and romantic as they come. It follows that it's a truly wonderful day for dreamers, lovers, poets and prophets, but anyone with serious and practical tasks to complete, needs to take extra care.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There may be little you can do to avoid a break at home today. Even at work, it seems as if the habits of the past are no longer serving you as well as they once did. If you jump before you are pushed then you will keep control and stay one step ahead.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You can forget the details which normally occupy your Taurean consciou-sness. It's issues of principle which demand your attention today, and you should make every effort to focus on the larger picture. In particular, you need to establish who is responsible for a recent mess.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Your social life should already have taken a welcome turn, with a better than average chance of happy invitations and long sought-after contacts finally coming your way. You should appreciate all good fortune, otherwise an opportunity may be snatched from you again.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You must now make a positive choice. I am afraid there is little time left and if you fail to act decisively you may miss your chance for at least another six months, by which time your position will have changed - and you might find yourself back at square one.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
There's been a lot of tension around lately, and some harsh words. Relationships at work may not be as easy as you would like, but they never are when you are forced to change, even when that change is for the better. A good rest is the best way to ward off nervous exhaustion.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You're not quite sure what to do next, but the first step in the right direction is probably to level with loved ones. You can afford to feel more than confident that they will have to accept whatever you decide. After all, you are boss. At least, you will be if you stay cool.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The last few days may have brought strange feelings and new desires, but the coming ones are crucial as far as short-term romantic, social and work plans are involved. Don't allow yourself to be pressurised or forced into making arrangements against your will.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The Moon moves into a region of your horoscope which, while not entirely sympathetic, nevertheless reinforces important and special Scorpionic traits. You can move forward with hope, especially as you seem to take in your stride the sort of upsets which throw other people off balance.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You might well have had enough of certain people, and perhaps you'd like to spend some time by yourself. Yet, a potentially sociable period begins today and many of you may consider taking the day off! At the very least, you should put mindless details to one side and take steps to vary your activities.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's one thing to juggle all your different responsibilities, but another to keep every ball in the air at the same time. Please be realistic - and don't take on more than you can possibly handle. If you do make commit-ments, you don't intend to fulfil, then you may be unpleasantly surprised when other people hold you to your word.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus is now sufficiently far into a sympathetic region of your chart for us to make certain statements about your leisure activities. In particular, the emphasis is shifting towards self-indulgence, so why don't you pamper yourself - just for a change?

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You have become used to a social life that is considerably more to your liking than it ever was a few years ago. You are now about to experience a very pleasant pay-off for all your efforts. But, first, you have to steel yourself to deal with a few more awkward people and emotional demands.

Health Vision Group for filling up 20.6% vacancies by 2023

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THE State Health Vision Group, which presented its vision document on Wednesday, has recommended filling up the existing 20.6 per cent vacancies in the health department by 2023, while noting that 20.5 per cent more posts than the sanctioned strength is required to serve the current requirement.

It is also recommended that a health human resource study be conducted, health HR development policy be developed, and district-wise resource mapping be carried out, among other steps, all in a bid to improve manpower.

The district-wise resource mapping of healthcare institutions and human resources must be geared towards identifying vacant positions, besides carrying out a projected needs assessment on yearly basis, which would also help organise public healthcare, referral services, and human resources during epidemics, pandemics and disasters.

The Vision Group noted that there are 60 medical colleges, including 42 private ones for undergraduate and postgraduate medical education in the state, and despite training a large number of students annually, there is a shortage of manpower in healthcare facilities.

The group has pointed out that a micro-study of the Kolar district indicated that deficiencies in specialist manpower services in the public sector resulted in patients seeking care in private facilities, despite the presence of several good programmes and services.

Meanwhile, developing a Health Human Resource Development Policy, with a focus on structuring augmenting utilisation of HR in different geographical areas in diverse disciplines by the active participation of public and private sectors, is also recommended.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Conduct a health human resource study to determine the existing workforce of health professionals

Establish a quality monitoring and enhancement cell to increase the number of health education institutions, courses, admissions

Universities should be encouraged to come together with RGUHS to identify future human requirements in upcoming areas, including telemedicine, geriatric care, specialties in nursing dialysis technicians/nurses, dental chair assistants

The state institute of health and family welfare and the four regional health and family welfare training centres should get technical support from leading state-level academic institutions to increase the number of qualified health trainers.

Police bust 2 drug cases in city, arrest 4 peddlers

BENGALURU: CCB has arrested three drug peddlers in Hennur and recovered MDMA crystals and other types of contraband worth Rs 60 lakh. All the three peddlers hail from Nigeria. The accused are identified as Obna Promise Victor, Osas Moses, and Yuchochukwa Marcomais. The accused were allegedly selling drugs to students, and had come to India on a business visa and were overstaying. In another case, the Banasawadi police have arrested a 26-year-old youth on allegations of drug peddling. The accused has a criminal background of selling drugs in Dubai and serving a jail term there. The accused has been identified as Munafis KP alias Tony (26), a resident of HBR Layout, who hails from Kozhikode in Kerala.

Gang lures man on dating app, loot him

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A 36-year-old man was robbed by a gang of three, who had trapped him through an online dating app.

The victim is a resident of Billapura in Sarjapura, and has a wife and son. The family had moved from Andhra Pradesh to the city nine months ago, after the victim secured a job in a hotel.

The victim was lured by the accused, who had sent him a message through an online dating app. Unsuspecting, the victim just followed instructions given by the accused, and landed at a location near Chandapura on Hosur Main Road. From there, one of the accused took him to a eucalyptus grove in Sarjapura, where the other two accused met them.

The three attacked him and made him take off his clothes. They then filmed with him with his own phone and shared the clip amongst themselves, in a bid to blackmail the victim.

The accused initially robbed him of Rs 15,000 in cash, before getting his brother to transfer money through UPI. Later, the accused let him free and made him board a BMTC bus to return home.

The incident occurred on August 10, but the victim had not approached police out of stigma. The accused were arrested on Tuesday and have been remanded to judicial custody.

"The accused are aged between 20-21 years. After the victim registered on the app, a message was sent to the accused, as they are subscribers of the app. It appears the accused have subscribed to the app to target people," said an officer.

SON WAS LOCKED IN ROOM, SAYS PARENT

ACCORDING to the complaint copy, the student of LKG had been hit on his lips and hands for misbehaving in class, and not studying properly. "He had told us in the first week of school that he had been hit, but we assumed he had misunderstood something. However, we noticed marks on his hands when picking him up from school, and immediately tried to get an appointment with the school authorities," said Chakraborty.

He alleged that the school tried to cover up the incident, initially claiming that the marks were caused by a fight between boys, rather than corporal punishment. However, upon further questioning, the kindergarten coordinator allegedly admitted that students would sometimes be 'tapped' to discipline them.

After promises that the incident would not recur, nearly a month later, his son talked about the abuse again. "He accidentally let it slip that the teacher was abusing him again, and he was scared because his teacher had told him not to tell us about the abuse," Chakraborty said. Though the complaint copy had only mentioned the physical abuse meted out to the child, Chakraborty also mentioned that he had been locked in a room against his will. "He told us he had been locked in a room with another male teacher, which got us worried. He was made to sit on the floor and was crying a lot, but wasn't allowed outside the room," Chakraborty said.

"I had sent them multiple emails regarding this, and called the school office multiple times, because I wanted to remove my son from the school, but I didn't receive any response, and calls would be disconnected mid-conversation," he said. Meanwhile, Chakraborty took to social media to share the abuse that his son had faced, and immediately after was able to procure his son's TC from the school.

Despite repeated attempts, the school refused to respond to any queries on the incident.

Lavanya Mithran, acting principal of the school, told TNIE the queries would be addressed only through email.

DRESSING DOWN

Don't violate traffic rules, cops told

MG CHETAN @ Bengaluru

TAKING serious note of violation of traffic rules by police personnel while using department vehicles, strict instructions have been issued to ensure no police vehicles violate rules.

Citizens taking to social media and posting pictures of police staff violating traffic rules has become a common trend in recent times. As this is denting the image of the police department, it is learnt that a communication has been sent to all police stations asking the inspectors to instruct the personnel, especially those who drive department vehicles, to ensure that they follow all traffic rules.

The move comes following people reporting violation of traffic rules by police through social media, emails, and the Public Eye application. A senior police officer said that people generally observe police vehicles on roads and they tend to expose any violation by taking a photo or recording a video and posting them on social media. "The staff have been instructed to strictly follow the rules as police is a disciplined force and violation of rules by uniformed men, who are supposed to uphold laws and rules, brings disrepute to the entire force. They have been instructed that they should be a role model to the public by following the rules or disciplinary action will be initiated," the officer added.

CM hits out at Cong, contractors' assn, seeks proof to order probe

Says Oppn can approach Lokayukta instead of making politically motivated allegations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his ministers hit out at the contractors association that made the '40% commission' allegation against the State Government and the Opposition Congress which demanded a judicial probe. The issue was also informally discussed during the cabinet meeting on Thursday.

Dismissing the demand for a judicial probe, Bommai said he is ready to order an enquiry if the association provides the details. "I demand him (contractor association president) to provide the details about the allegations he is making. If he gives me the details, I will order enquiry within 24 hours," the CM said responding to Contractors Association President Kempanna's allegations against Horticulture Minister Munirathna that he had directed officials to collect money from contractors. "There has to be a complaint, the accused should be named and there has to be evidence to order a probe. In the absence of any of those and just based on media reports, they (Congress) are demanding for a judicial probe," Bommai shot back.

Terming allegations against the government as irresponsible statements, Bommai said instead of making politically motivated allegations, they should approach Lokayukta. "We have a Lokayukta that is fully independent to investigate any case. Why we should not use it? Instead of doing so, they are making politically motivated allegations," he said.

Bommai said Kempanna's is not the only contractors association in Karnataka as there are many contractors associations with over 40,000 contractors. "We know why such remarks are made after meeting Siddaramaiah. They claim MLAs from all parties, including Congress, JDS and BJP were involved... but do not give any evidence. If they say it was there even during previous governments, what were they doing at that time?" the CM questioned.

Bommai said the State Government has ensured transparency, cleared pending bills and also considered all their suggestions. "Instead of making sweeping remarks, they must make specific allegations. For the first time, they have named a minister. The minister said he is filing a defamation case," he said. Bommai said as a contractor Kempanna also has the responsibility to do the work well.

Let Kempanna go to Lokayukta or HC: Minister

Law Minister JC Madhu Swamy said no one is stopping Kempanna from going to the High Court or Lokayukta. "The allegation he is making is damaging the state's reputation. We are hurt. Let him make allegations by giving documents and proofs. At least let him give proof to media... instead of that he is just making baseless allegations. I condemn this'' he said. "Kempanna said he has all the documents, let him release the documents," he said. The minister said Kempanna should go to the CM, who will order an inquiry and if he does not trust Bommai, let him go to Lokayukta or even the HC. Madhuswamy said none of them know what work Kempanna is taking up, though he claims to be a government contractor.

CORRUPTION AT NEW HIGH IN BOMMAI-LED GOVT, SAYS DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

GOING hammer and tongs at the Bommai government, KPCC president D K Shivakumar said that corruption is at a peak in Karnataka, and the "government is celebrating corruption Janotsava".

Claiming that Contractors' Association president Kempanna is not a "Congress agent", as labelled by the BJP, and had not met him or opposition leader Siddaramaiah in the past year, he wanted to know why Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had met Kempanna.

Contractors are alleging that the government charges 40 per cent commission to clear their bills, and have raised the issue of harassment by the government. As the opposition, it is the right of the Congress to raise its voice too, he said.

"Kateel has insisted on evidence in the 40 per cent commission allegations. It has been one year since Kempanna wrote a letter to the Prime Minister. If you are honest, order a judicial inquiry," he challenged the government. BJP leaders H Vishwanath and Basanagouda Yatnal have themselves spoken about irregularities in the government, he added.

"In Chamarajanagar district, the Raitha Sangha has written to Prime Minister Modi about the misdeeds of the Kolar district minister," Shivakumar said. "After the police sub inspector recruitment scam, there is now the KPTCL staff recruitment scandal. They have made scapegoats of officers and candidates, but are not going after the real kingpins."

On CBI notice

Asked about the CBI notice to his close aide Vijay Mulgund, Shivkumar said, "Mulgund is a party secretary and close aide. I have remained silent as it should be dealt with as per law. I have filed a petition in the high court against these cases." Mulgund was one of those who assisted Shivakumar in coralling Gujarat Congress MLAs in Eagleton Resort on the outskirts of Bengaluru, during the critical Rajya Sabha elections in 2017.

More allegations againt Munirathna

MYSURU: A day after the contractors association accused Horticulture Minister Munirathna of instructing engineers to demand bribes, KPCC spokesperson M Lakshman on Thursday demanded his resignation from the state cabinet. Addressing media persons on Thursday, the Congress leader released several documents, which he claimed revealed the minister's involvement in the commission scam, including assigning of an official to receive the bribes. "The minister also called a contractor on WhatsApp requesting him to drop the issue now. We are collecting more evidence and will release them soon," he said. ENS

40% bribe helped BJP become rich: Hariprasad

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE 40 per cent commission charges by contractors has given fresh political ammunition to the Opposition parties against the BJP government. Leader of Opposition in the Council B K Hariprasad alleged that the BJP and RSS became the richest organisations in the country in just eight years due to the commissions.

Hariprasad, who visited Mysuru to hold a meeting with Congress leaders ahead of the Bharat Jodo Yatra by Rahul Gandhi from September 7, said the Congress created history, but the BJP and RSS have twisted it.

Leader of Opposition in the Council B K Hariprasad and other Congress leaders at a meeting to discuss Rahul Gandhi's rally, in Mysuru on Thursday | UDAYASHANKAR S

Slamming CM Bommai for his Satya Harischandra remark against former CM Siddaramaiah, Hariprasad said contractor association president Kempanna had complained about the commission corruption to Prime Minister Narendra Modi a year back. "But the BJP government failed to take any action on the charges. So Kempanna submitted a memorandum to Siddaramaiah. The Congress does not want certificates from BJP, but from people. Let the government order a CBI probe or judicial inquiry. Let them prove they are not involved in the commission scam," he said.

Stating that the BJP is the richest political party while the RSS is the richest NGO in the country, Hariprasad alleged that BJP and RSS became rich through the 40 per cent commission.

"Just in eight years of the BJP government, they became the richest. BJP constructed its office in Delhi spending Rs 1,600 crore. But even after 75 years, Congress has no offices in several districts in the country," he said.

₹49 cr to develop Malpe fishery harbour

₹73.53 cr for Konkan railways

₹24.27 cr for railway over bridge at Whitefield

FOUR MARKETS ON B'LURU OUTSKIRTS

The cabinet has given approval to develop a hitech vegetable market spread across 42 acres at Goolimanagala village in Singena Agrahara near Bommasandra, and ₹100 crore, including Rs 48 crore for land acquisition, has been allotted. This will be one of the proposed four markets on the outskirts of Bengaluru. "We want to shift the Kalasipalya market. It might be difficult for farmers neighbouring districts if we shift just to one place. So, we will shift to four different places. We will develop similar markets on Magadi Road and Kolar Road," Madhuswamy said.

Cabinet gives nod to set up seven new universities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his ministers arrive for the cabinet meeting at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

KARNATAKA will get seven new universities at district headquarters. The state cabinet on Thursday approved upgrading the existing post-graduate centres in Chamarajanagara, Bidar, Haveri, Kodagu, Koppal, Hassan and Bagalkote districts, to universities.

Speaking to reporters on Thursday, Law Minister J C Madhu Swamy said setting up the universities was announced in the budget this year. "We have given administrative approval to set up new universities in seven districts. The state will have Chamarajanagara University, Bidar University, Haveri University, Kodagu University, Koppal University, Hassan University and Bagalkote University. Mandya University limits will be extended further, adding more colleges," he added.

The universities are coming up as per the direction of the University Grants Commission (UGC). "The UGC has been insisting that the state set up the universities and it is also providing a one-time grant. By setting up new universities at the existing district headquarters, additional administration staff will be added and remaining infrastructure can be used with the existing ones. At present, these centres have buildings and other infrastructure. However, there will be additional burden, which will borne by the state government," he said.

Earlier in the day, Higher Education Minister C N Ashwath Narayan said the Department of Finance and Planning has already given consent for the setting up of the universities. The universities will function with less space, limited human resources and reduced expenses, as part of a new concept. Apart from Mandya University, all other universities have been given Rs 2 crore for their establishment, with a total of Rs 14 crore sanctioned. The unitary university to be established in Mandya will comprise all first grade colleges in the district. Meanwhile, Bidar will have 140 colleges under its umbrella, Bagalkot will have 71, Hassan 36, Haveri 40, Kodagu 24, Koppal 40 and Chamarajnagar University 18 colleges.

No viva for Group D recruitment

Madhuswamy said they have given approval to bring amendment to the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC) for recruitment of Group D employees. "Henceforth, there will be no viva for candidates who apply for Group D jobs, and selection will be based only based on written exams. At present, Class B and C cadre recruitment is being done only through written exams.

Govt to hire staff to strengthen Lokayukta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state cabinet has decided to strengthen the Karnataka Lokayukta, and has approved recruitment of staff for accounts and prosecution for the anti-corruption watchdog.

Law Minister J C Madhu Swamy said seven auditors, who are retired, will be hired on contract and public prosecutors, working in the Lokayukta, will be renewed for the next one year. "The Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) secretary has been instructed to take down the details of requirements by the Lokayukta and the state government will address them."

Madhu Swamy said once the Anti-corruption Bureau is abolished, complaints registered with it will be taken up by the Lokayukta. "Our decision is clear and we will go with our manifesto. After the court abolished the ACB, no cases have been registered with it since then. The Lokayukta will take up the cases now," he said.

When asked about the status of pending cases at the ACB, Madhu Swamy said they are studying the court's order in detail. The court itself has given suggestions on what to do with the cases pending before the ACB.

When asked about a private petitioner going to the Supreme Court questioning the High Court's order on abolishing the ACB, the minister said if the state government had appealed against the order, there would have been some weight.

Long wait for martyrs' kin to get facilities

"I have seen family members of martyrs running from pillar to post to avail of these facilities even after 20 years. Is this the way we treat family members who lose their breadwinners for the country?" Brigadier Muniswamy asked. He demanded that the State government pay at least Rs 1 crore as compensation.

Slamming the government, he wanted to know what kind of job it would give widows of martyrs. "It will be Group D cadre. When the government has funds to give freebies for votes, it can give a decent amount to martyrs' families. They should be given government job, land and Rs 1 crore in compensation," he added.

"No ex-gratia amount will be paid henceforth," Madhu Swamy said on Thursday.

Cut tax, bring down fuel prices, demands Oppn

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

CITING falling crude oil rates, opposition leaders in Karnataka have demanded that the government bring down prices of petrol and diesel, to ease the burden on the common man. They urged the government, which they termed "insensitive and hard-hearted" to lower the tax burden on fuel.

"After the BJP came to power, it increased excise duty from Rs 9.21 to Rs 32.98 per litre. When crude oil price fell below $40 per barrel, the public was denied the benefit of low fuel prices. But when crude prices started increasing, the government again increased rates. BJP burdens people with exorbitant taxes," Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said.

The price of crude oil is around $90 a barrel. When crude was at $143 per barrel in 2008, petrol cost Rs 70 per litre and diesel was Rs 60 per litre, KPCC president D K Shivakumar said. "The government needs to fix prices proportionally."

Economist Prof Shankarshan Basu said, "The government is not passing on the benefit of cheaper crude to the customer. Today's crude oil prices may be around $90 per barrel, but we are getting cheaper Russian crude which is around $70 per barrel. The economy is not delivering, and the government is short of revenue. This revenue shortfall from other sources is being made good by selling petrol and diesel at artificially higher prices.''

"We will launch a protest on all these issues -- oil prices, inflation, rising unemployment, and the pain the people go through because of a callous government," opposition leader in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge said.

After flak, govt withdraws appointments

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AFTER facing flak for gaffes in the appointment of chairpersons and members to 21 trusts and foundations, which come under the purview of the Kannada and Culture Department, the state government on Thursday withdrew its order.

On Wednesday, the department had issued an order appointing noted writer Narendra Rai Derla as chairperson of Chikkamagaluru-based K P Poornachandra Tejaswi Prathistana. Taking strong exception to his appointment without any prior intimation, Derla had decided not to take it up.

In another error, writer Poornachandra Tejaswi's wife, Rajeshwari, who had died in December 2021, was also appointed as member, which received criticism on different platforms.

Meanwhile, activist Chakravarthi Sulibele has also refused to take charge as chairperson of Haveri's Galaganatha and Na Rajapurohitha Prathistana.

JNU VC wants Sanskrit as natl language

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

JAWAHARLAL Nehru University, New Delhi, Vice-Chancellor Prof Santishree Pandit on Thursday advocated the need for declaring Sanskrit as the national language of India.

Delivering the keynote address during the inaugural of the 19th State Level Political Science Teachers Conference on the theme 'Nationalism and National Integration of India: Issues and Challenges' at Gulbarga University, Prof Santishree said making Sanskrit the national language will be beneficial as it is the "fountain of knowledge".

Paying tribute to Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar, she said he advocated for the welfare of all castes and communities and because of the constitution, written by Dr Ambedkar, the country has developed to this extent and is in competition with developed countries in many aspects.

She regretted gender discrimination that is still prevalent. "Our country is 143rd out of 146 countries in providing facilities to women. Iran, Pakistan and Afghanistan are the only other countries that are below India in this aspect," she rued.

"We address Lord Sri Ram as Seetapati and Lord Vishnu as Lakshmipati, which shows we have a feminist civilization," she said.

10-day session from Sept 12, likely to be stormy

BENGALURU: The monsoon session of the state legislature will be held from September 12 to 22. Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhuswamy on Thursday said the session will be held for 10 days from September 12 in Bengaluru. The session is likely to be a stormy affair as the Opposition Congress is set to take on the Bommai government on several issues, including the state contractors association allegations of a '40% commission'. The Opposition is also likely to take up issues related to probe in irregularities in the PSI recruitment, the law and order situation, recent murders in coastal districts and communal tension in Shivamogga. ENS

Telangana CM K Chandrashekar Rao addresses a gathering at Kongara village on Thursday | EXPRESS

ACCUSING the BJP of trying to spread hatred and unrest in Telangana, Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao on Thursday said that as long as he is alive, he would not let the state burn.

Addressing a public meeting after inaugurating the Rangareddy District Collectorate Complex, he wanted to know from the people whether they want a peaceful and prosperous state or one burning with communal hatred.

"Pantala Telangana kaavaalaa leka mantala Telangana kaavaalaa? (you want a prosperous Telangana with bountiful crops or a burning Telangana?)," the Chief Minister asked the gathering.

"The BJP pulled down elected governments in nine states and threatening to dethrone the governments in West Bengal and Tamil Nadu. They created Hijab row in Karnataka, which slowed down the progress in IT sector in that state," he said and added, "We will not tolerate, if they create disturbance in Telangana for the sake of votes and politics. As long as I am alive I will not allow them to destroy Telangana. People are my strength and my army. I will work for further development of the state."

"People should watch the developments in Bihar, Delhi and other states. They were saying that they would purchase Delhi MLAs by paying Rs 25 crore to each of them. Once the unity is disturbed in our state, development would be derailed and the state would fall back by 100 years." Rao cautioned the people and asked them to chase away "the selfish, communal and wicked forces".

Accident exposes state of public transport for migrants

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Tumakuru

The injured being treated at Tumakuru district general hospital on Thursday

THURSDAY'S ghastly accident which killed nine people on NH-48 near Sira, in Tumakuru district, has exposed the sorry state of public transport, with overloading of Multi Utility Vehicles (MUVs) being allowed illegally.

Many such vehicles which ferry migrant labourers to cities like Bengaluru, remain off the radar of transport authorities across the state.

Waking up to the issue following the incident, Kallambella police swung into action and seized five overcrowded MUVs and filed FIRs. "How is it these vehicles, which cover huge distances, escape the notice of the authorities? At least managers at checkpoints and tollgates, especially on highways, should alert jurisdictional police," remarked an officer with the RTO.

But for migrants from economically weaker backgrounds, these MUVs provide cheap mobility, though there are risks involved. The accident also threw light on the plight of labourers from northern parts of the state. There should be a system to address their issues, said another officer, adding that travelling by KSRTC is expensive for them.

The mechanical condition of vehicles that were driven at high speed, is another issue which should be addressed. Regional Transport Authorities (RTAs) headed by deputy commissioners in the districts should take a call on vehicles that ply between districts, suggested another officer.

Scores of people who had gone to their home towns during the Covid-19 lockdown have started returning to cities in search of jobs, often with their families.

MINISTER ORDERS ACTION

THE deceased were identified as Prabhuswamy (28), his wife Sujatha (23), their son Vinoda (3), their relative Meenakshi (9) and Lingamma (30) — all from Gudooru village of Jewargi taluk in Kalaburagi district, driver Krishna (32) of Vadavatti village, Basamma (50) of Kasanadoddi village, Siddaiah Swamy (40) of Kurakunda village, Adappa (25) of Navalakallu, all from Sirivara taluk of Raichur district.

Sandeepa (5) is the only survivor from the family of four as he lost both his parents Prabhuswamy and Sujatha, and sibling Vinoda.

With the consent of their families, the district hospital authorities collected the corneas of six deceased.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, who is also Tumakuru district in-charge minister, instructed the police to take strict action against overcrowded vehicles. "The police should make the passengers deboard and send them by KSRTC buses," he said. Meanwhile, Tumakuru RTO S Raju went on leave on Wednesday and Thursday.

RAJA SINGH ARRESTED

PRIYA RATHNAM @ Hyderabad

TWO days after he was released on bail, within hours of being taken into custody for his alleged comments against Prophet Muhammad, controversial BJP MLA T Raja Singh was arrested again on Thursday by police under the Preventive Detention (PD) Act and was sent to Cherlapally Central Jail.

A city court granted him bail on Tuesday, citing procedural lapses on the part of police such as failure to issue a notice. On Thursday, however, police followed all legal procedures and served notices to him under 41 A CrPC before sending him to jail.

Singh, who became the first MLA to be arrested under PD Act, was served notices in two cases registered in February and April. The two cases were registered against Singh for reportedly targeting Minorities and passing derogatory comments against them.

150 maggots removed from patient's nose

ENS @ Hyderabad

DOCTORS at Century Hospital removed nearly 150 maggots (baby houseflies) from the nose of a critically ill patient. The woman was brought to the hospital in a semi-comatose state, delirious and critically ill. According to the hospital, the 50-year-old from Guntur district suffered from Covid-19 infection approximately six months ago and the infection further led to mucormycosis due to which her right eye was removed.

She suffered from localised sensation loss. "Usually, when a mosquito or housefly lands on the skin, we get the sensation and try to brush it away. However, as the patient had lost sensation due to mucormycosis, the houseflies entered her nose and laid eggs inside. Once the eggs are hatched, they become larvae, that can enter the brain and cause meningitis," said Dr Hemanth Kaukuntla, CEO, Century Hospital.

Foresters 'steal' cane to feed two elephants

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

HOW to feed an elephant? Forest Department staffers, who have brought two pachyderms from Shivamogga to catch an elusive leopard here, found a new, though illegal, way of filling the stomachs of these mammoths. In the early hours of Wednesday, they snuck into the field of a sugarcane farmer at Mutaga village in Belagavi taluk and took away 5 quintals of his produce, farmers alleged. The affected farmer, Raju Kanbarkar, found out about it when he visited his field later in the morning. He alleged that foresters have cut fully grown sugarcane.

Kanbarkar later gathered other villagers, went to the golf course, where elephants are housed, and confronted the foresters. "They first denied the allegations, but later agreed to give compensation," he said. Forest Department sources said they will conduct a survey to assess the loss before paying Kanbarkar the compensation.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

A newborn baby boy, who was covered in a cloth and put in a cradle made of plastic that was suspended from a tree, was rescued at Nersa Gouliwada hamlet in Khanapur taluk of Belagavi district on Thursday.

An Asha worker, Satyavati Desai, spotted the boy and rushed him to Khanapur taluk hospital. The baby was later shifted to the Belagavi Institute of Medical Sciences Hospital. The baby is now in the neonatal ICU and is out of danger.

The baby, weighing 2.2 kg, is said to have been born just a day before it was found abandoned. Even the umbilical cord and placenta had not been removed, indicating that the mother, who did not want the baby, might have abandoned it in a hurry. As the baby was exposed to the cold weather, it had a slight infection and hypothermia.

Belagavi District Health Officer Dr Mahesh Koni said, "I have instructed the taluk health officer and officials from the women and child welfare department to conduct an inquiry in the surrounding villages and hospitals to find the baby's mother. A case will be registered once we get more information."

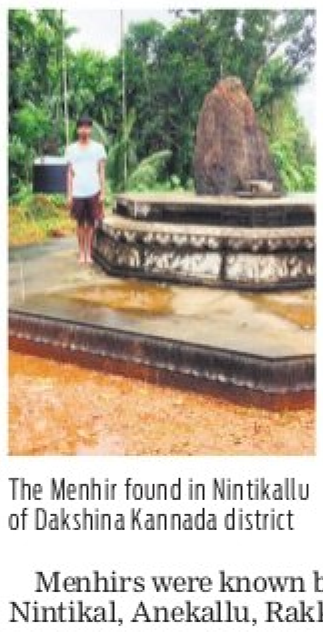
This is the second such incident of an infant being abandoned in Khanapur taluk in the last six months.

NINTIKALLU WONDER

Menhir discovered in Dakshina Kannada

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

A MENHIR of the Megalithic period has been found at Nintikallu in Murulya village of Sullia taluk in Dakshina Kannada district. According to Prof Murugeshi T, associate professor, Dept of Ancient History and Archeology, MSRS College, Shirva, Udupi, it is for the first time in the history of Dakshina Kannada, a Menhir was found in the district.



The Menhir found in Nintikallu of Dakshina Kannada district

He said Megalithic culture is predominantly represented by different types of burials in Coastal Karnataka. On the left side of Dayananda Gowda's house, the Menhir is located in the open courtyard, lower half of the menhir is buried in the recently built round concrete platform which is now called as Vanadurga Katte. Presently, a female deity is worshipped there. Menhir is an upright standing stone from the Megalithic period. They are erected above a burial site or near a burial site as a memorial.

Menhirs were known by various names like, Nilskal, Nintikal, Anekallu, Rakkasakal, Garbinikal and so on in South India. At Basruru, Nitturu and Subhasnagara of Udupi district, they are peculiarly known as 'Garbiniyarakallu'. It is a free standing stone, slightly leaning towards the north west direction. The Menhir found in the present site is an undressed natural stone of about 10 feet in height. It closely resembles the Menhir found at Siddalingapura in Kodagu and Nilskal in Shivamogga. Dayananda Gowda, a resident of Nintikallu, said that it was popularly called as 'Nintikallu' by local people and while digging for the construction around the stone, they found red potteries of thick sections.

"It is very clear that the place 'Nintikallu' got its name from this Menhir as we have seen in the case of Nilskal. Nilskal in Hosanagara taluk of Shivamogga district also got its name from a number of huge upright standing stones," said Prof Murugeshi.

GENDER JUSTICE IDEA RUNS INTO POLITICAL REALITY

When some schools in Kerala recently introduced gender-neutral student uniforms, the revolutionary idea created a positive buzz and was hailed as an affirmative step toward ensuring gender justice. With ministers and prominent personalities joining in the celebration, and a wider debate ensuing, there were signs that this would become a norm in schools. The CPM-led government was expected to play an active role.

However, CM Pinarayi Vijayan told the assembly that his government won’t impose any dress code on students. Incidentally, on the same day, the State Council of Education Research and Training withdrew the portion that discussed promoting “mixed seating” in classrooms from the note prepared for public discussion in the run-up to the proposed revision in the school curriculum. Both decisions seem to be the fallout of the hue and cry raised by certain religious organisations and political parties like the Muslim League. They claim that popularising gender-neutral uniforms will lead to sexual anarchy and cite Indian culture to argue against allowing girls and boys to sit together. As expected, these organisations celebrated the strategic retreat by the government.

Studies and testimonies underline that allowing girls to wear trousers boosts confidence, increases participation in sports events, and saves them from the disturbing male gaze. These reasons would be enough for any sensible adult to embrace gender-neutral uniforms wholeheartedly. Unfortunately, Kerala’s political and religious orthodoxy is unwilling to see the reality. That is why the state’s progressive majority hoped for the demonstration of a strong will by the government. The government, disappointingly, decided to tread a safe path. Once bitten by the orthodoxy in the Sabarimala issue, there are reasons for the government to be twice shy with any such progressive steps. The fact is the parties in the opposition, too, played their part—from either being silent or stridently opposing the measures—in ensuring that Kerala’s schools did not become trendsetters in the cause of gender equality. By pandering to religious orthodoxy and placing political compulsions above the rights of girl children, the political class has nipped reformist ideas in the bud.

MUNUGODE, A COSTLY POLITICAL EXERCISE

General elections to the Telangana State assembly are hardly a year away. Yet, a rural Assembly segment—Munugode—in the Nalgonda district is going for a by-election. Though notification is yet to be issued, the Election Commission will have to hold it within six months by February next year. The non-descript constituency is already becoming a theatre for a gladiatorial contest with KCR and Amit Shah addressing mega rallies, and Priyanka Vadra is also expected to join the joust soon.

The by-election could have been avoided as it serves no purpose except to suit the BJP’s political gambit. The sitting Congress legislator Komatireddy Raj Gopal Reddy wanted to join the BJP ahead of the general election. The BJP, which smelled an opportunity to strengthen further the perception that it was galloping towards capturing power in the next Assembly election, made Raj Gopal Reddy resign, necessitating the by-election. It hopes that the bypoll is a cinch because it is Raj Gopal’s turf, and on top of it, he will now be its candidate. The BJP has already upset the TRS in two earlier by-elections—Huzurabad and Dubbaka, one of which was caused by the resignation of sitting TRS MLA Eatala Rajender after he was sacked from the cabinet for “plotting against” KCR. The other occurred as the incumbent, a TRS legislator, died. The saffron party wants to tuck Munugode under its belt to create an impression that it is now unstoppable.

The only purpose that the by-election may serve is to help the parties know which way the wind is blowing. The TRS is of the opinion that it is still a monolith, while the BJP thinks a silent revolution is building up in its favour. The Congress, which is still struggling with internecine quarrels, is yet to get its act together. The by-election surely will not tilt the scales in favour of anyone now, as KCR has a brute majority in the Assembly. The BJP and the Congress have MLAs in single digits. If we leave aside the politics, this inevitable bypoll is nothing but an unconscionable waste of crores of rupees of public money, contrary to claims of the parties that it will usher in development.

The challenges faced by the ASEAN over the Myanmar crisis, the South China Sea dispute and other issues have soured any mood for optimism in its 55th year

MORE CONCERNS THAN CONSENSUS IN ASEAN AT 55

SOURAV ROY

SHANKARI SUNDARARAMAN

Professor at School of International Studies, JNU, New Delhi

ASIAN AXIS

The 55th Meeting of the ASEAN Foreign Ministers (AMM) in Cambodia in early August was a landmark event for the regional grouping that has been the core of regional mechanisms in the Asia-Pacific. However, even as the ASEAN turned 55, the summit threw up far more areas of concern than consensus among the members.

As the AMM concluded in Phnom Penh on August 3, it was followed by two key ministerial meetings of both the ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) and the East Asia Summit (EAS) which are critical to the ASEAN mechanisms for the wider region as these include the external partners and key regional and global players. However, the challenges faced by the ASEAN over the Myanmar crisis, the South China Sea dispute and other issues have soured any mood for optimism in its 55th year.

The ASEAN Ministerial Meeting (AMM) highlighted some of the core challenges even as the region is still grappling with the fallout of the pandemic and post-Covid recovery. The Joint Communiqué this year did emerge, belying concerns over whether Cambodia, as chair of ASEAN, would once again hold the grouping ransom over issues relating to developments in the South China Sea as it had done in July 2012, when it last chaired the ASEAN. That year, for the first time, the ASEAN Foreign Ministers Meeting did not bring out a Joint Communiqué, indicating that consensus building within the grouping was challenged by new members with different agendas and priorities. This year’s Joint Communiqué clearly highlights three critical areas of concern, impacting the focus on ASEAN consensus.

First, Myanmar’s situation eroded even further by the end of July. For a country that has been in a state of political conflict since February 2021, in recent weeks, the excesses of the State Administration Council (SAC) led by General Min Aung Hlaing have brutalised sensitivities across the regional and global landscape. The summary executions of four political prisoners by the end of July cast a pallor of gloom over the ASEAN summit. They brought the focus fully back on the intransigence of the military regime and its brutality in addressing the political crisis within the country. The four prisoners were part of the pro-democracy groups. They had been accused of inciting violence and carrying out terror attacks against the military by using their positions to instigate the civilian militias against the SAC.

Before the ASEAN summit, Cambodian Prime Minister Hun Sen made a personal appeal to the military leaders to postpone the executions in light of ASEAN’s Five Point Consensus to assist in resolving the political crisis. ASEAN’s debarring of Myanmar’s SAC representative from the ASEAN processes has had little impact on Myanmar’s leadership. Ignoring the appeal of the ASEAN Chair and the special envoy has been seen as a defiant posture against the Five Point Consensus, leading to a divided response from the ASEAN. The Statement by the ASEAN chair following the execution was probably one of the strongest ASEAN statements yet against Myanmar.

One of the core challenges for ASEAN has been the deliverance of humanitarian assistance. While the ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on disaster management (AHA Centre) coordinates the issue of humanitarian aid, the process still remains critically undermined as the actual ground deliverance is yet to be done. While the ASEAN Emergency Response and Assessment Team (ERAT) has conducted an initial appraisal, it is yet to be implemented, leaving a huge gap between plan and action. Moreover, increasing views within ASEAN have begun to look at Myanmar as a liability, given the intransigence of the military and its unwillingness to comply with any of the ASEAN initiatives, leaving little scope for including Myanmar in the ASEAN processes till some resolution to the crisis is possible.

> In the week before the AMM, the summit meeting between President Joe Biden and President Xi Jinping saw the reference to the threat of a major incident in the South China Sea as a potentially destabilising factor. Even as the ASEAN focuses on trying to build consensus, increasing belligerence from the major players will continue to undermine the regional efforts at resolving the maritime conflict

Secondly, on issues of maritime challenges, particularly relating to the crisis over the disputed areas of the South China Sea, this meeting was a step in the right direction, with Cambodia as Chair, shaping the agenda of the meeting. The oft-recurring reference to the importance of adhering to the ‘recognised principles of international law’ and the significance of the UNCLOS remains critical, particularly in the face of repeated violations by China.

The issue of artificial islands and their extensions were raised by the member states and has been indicated in the Joint Communiqué, bringing more concerted focus. Critical to the process of evolving a Code of Conduct (CoC) is the resumption of the Joint Working Group that is entrusted with negotiating a single draft CoC to address a resolution of the South China Sea dispute. While the Joint Communiqué reiterated the importance of both restraint and non-militarisation, the actual ground realities are far more complex. In the week before the AMM, the summit meeting between President Joe Biden and President Xi Jinping saw the reference to the threat of a major incident in the South China Sea as a potentially destabilising factor. Even as the ASEAN focuses on trying to build consensus, increasing belligerence from the major players will continue to undermine the regional efforts at resolving the South China Sea conflict.

Third, the regional focus on the post-Covid economic recovery has been very clearly articulated in the AMM by accepting what has become known as the Consolidated Strategy for a recovery from the pandemic. This is particularly important as the pandemic has severely hampered the socio-economic factors. One of the core areas where ASEAN has been challenged is the disruption of supply chains, impacting the emphasis on open regionalism. This is a critical area for the ASEAN as it continues to strengthen economic cooperation and supply chain resilience in response to the challenges unleashed by the pandemic.

Consensus building within the ASEAN has never been easy. But even as regional and global challenges are impacting ASEAN’s capacity for concerted action, the overarching theme for this year’s agenda, ‘ASEAN ACT: Addressing Challenges Together’, will remain more rhetorical than real.

INTERGENERATIONAL BONDING TO COMBAT AGEISM

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Consultant Psychiatrist, Apollo Multispeciality Hospitals, Kolkata

We recently observed International Youth Day on August 12. The objective of this occasion is to amplify the message that action is needed across all generations to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and leave no one behind. It will also raise awareness about certain barriers to intergenerational solidarity, notably ageism, which impacts young and old persons, while having detrimental effects on society as a whole.

Ageism refers to the stereotypes (how we think), prejudice (how we feel) and discrimination (how we act) towards others or oneself based on age. An evergrowing social evil, ageism is not just restricted to older people. Casual comments like, “Oh he is a cricketer in his 30s?” or “How did she think of bearing a child at 45?” or “A kid like him has no chance among the veterans!”—all point to our ageist attitudes.

Ageism continues as an insidious and an often unaddressed issue in health, human rights and development, and has bearings on both older and younger populations around the world. In addition, it regularly intersects with other forms of bias (such as racism, sexism, ableism, mentalism) and impacts people in ways that prevent them from reaching their full potential and comprehensively contributing to their community.

The recent Global Report on Ageism launched by the United Nations and World Health Organization (WHO) in March 2021 highlights the alarming scenario. Every second person in the world is believed to hold ageist attitudes—leading to poorer physical and mental health and reduced quality of life for older persons, costing societies billions of dollars each year. In sheer numbers, this data amounts to billions of “stereotyped thoughts towards ageing” that creates a global environment unsafe for older people. The ongoing pandemic has also been an eye-opener. The response to control Covid-19 has unveiled just how widespread ageism is—older and younger people have been stereotyped in public discourse and on social media. In some situations, age has been used as the sole criterion for access to medical care, vaccination, triage, life-saving therapies and for physical isolation.

Ageism has serious and wide-ranging consequences for people’s health and well-being. Among older people, ageism is associated with poorer physical and mental health, increased social isolation and loneliness, greater financial insecurity, decreased quality of life and premature death. An estimated 6.3 million cases of depression the world over are attributed to ageism.

India, with its rapid demographic transition towards an ageing population, shares a similar picture. Even though our nation traditionally boasts of solidarity, joint families, generational bonds and respect towards elders—data shows otherwise. Based on the Global Report on Ageism 2021, India is among several low- and middle-income countries including Nigeria and Yemen that account for the highest prevalence of ageism.

Examples of institutional ageism include discriminatory hiring practices or mandatory retirement ages; interpersonal ageism includes disrespecting or patronising older and younger adults, ignoring their points of view in decision-making or avoiding contact and interactions. Self-directed ageism refers to ageism towards oneself, like older individuals hesitant to learn new skills later in life or people in their twenties who think that they are too young for a job, making them reluctant to reply. HelpAge India in their report released in 2021, mentioned about the increase in ageism and elder abuse during the pandemic, unanswered cries for help, limited digital literacy among older people and reduced media awareness towards this social issue.

> Age and ageing are unfortunately equated with ‘weakness’, ‘frailty’, ‘loss of beauty’, ‘disease’, ‘death’, etc. Older people are deprived of their rights, privacy, confidentiality ... This is further compounded in those who stay in assisted living facilities and those with mental health conditions

In this context, International Youth Day carries a special significance themed on “intergenerational solidarity”. Essentially, we must celebrate the bond between the old and the young. What can be better than this to combat ageism?

Bringing children or young adults and seniors together through planned, mutually beneficial activities and programs is one way to help seniors feel connected to others and provide much-needed stimulation. Examples include older adults serving the young through mentorship programs—seniors volunteering in schools as reading assistants, tutors and resources for career and parenting guidance. There are also examples of programs where younger generations visit senior centers and communities for service learning projects; elementary schools may encourage young students to become pen pals with a local senior, or visit a senior community to hear their stories and learn from them. There are even examples of older adults and the young sharing settings: day care centers that house both adult care and childcare programs are a growing trend. Age and ageing are unfortunately equated with ‘weakness’, ‘frailty’, ‘loss of beauty’, ‘disease’, ‘death’, etc. Older people are deprived of their rights, privacy, confidentiality, and autonomy. This is further compounded in those who stay in assisted living facilities and those with mental health conditions and dementia.

These narratives need to change early and the youth can be the flag-bearers for the same. Intergenerational bonding can go a long way in creating ties within families and respect for values and opinions, thereby fostering age-friendly societies. This will be in line with the ongoing United Nations Decade of Healthy Ageing 2021–2030. The Decade calls for a global battle against ageism and integrated care for older people. International Youth Day every year is thus an occasion and an important reminder to protect the human rights and dignity of older people in our country.

Solidarity across generations is key for sustainable development. As we navigate the third year of the Covid-19 pandemic, it is especially important to nurture societies that we would all like to live in when we inevitably age.

Urban malady

Apropos of the column, Bringing village panchayats to cities (August 25). The writer has truly hit the nail on the head when he opines that city dwellers need to have more say in their city’s development. Employing the village panchayat method in cities may bring public voices to the forefront and improve the city.

Eye-opening editorial

Apropos of Teen marriage and consent with a cost (August 25). Once their education comes to a halt, girls start to depend on the male breadwinner in their families. Although the judgment may acknowledge ‘consent’, this could be a route towards more child marriages in a ‘patriarchal setup’, as rightly pointed out in the editorial.

Those 11 better pay

There is no justification for the release of the 11 convicts in the Bilkis Bano case. They have committed such unimaginably heinous crimes and now they walk free! What kind of message does this send to society—that one can commit dastardly crimes and get away?

Karnataka corruption

Amid the ‘40% commission’ controversy facing the Bommai government, the contractors’ association met Siddaramaiah and alleged corruption by ministers and MLAs. This raises suspicion. During Siddaramaiah’s term, the Lokayukta was completely defanged. ACB was brought in, but this was also a toothless body. One can’t say there was no corruption during his tenure as CM. Take the BBMP for instance—they are corrupt regardless of whose term it is!

Gehlot brings lot to table

Although Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot denied talks of being offered the post of Congress President by Sonia Gandhi ahead of her medical visit abroad, there may be hope. Gehlot is a good statesman. If the members of the Gandhi family are hesitant to take the baton, it may actually be a good decision to allow Gehlot to take the lead. The reality is that the Congress is now in a do or die situation and need to get back up and compete.

Kerala judge transfer

It is good that the Kerala HC judge has been transferred after making a remark about a woman’s ‘provocative dress’ in a sexual harassment case. It is appalling that the judge cited the accused’s age and disability as reasons to deny the woman’s accusations. Judges have no right to comment on one’s behaviour or dress.

'BJP action report wrong': Gadkari warns legal action

Says 'propaganda' over wrong interpretation of his words

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AMID rumours about BJP mulling action against Nitin Gadkari, the Union minister hit out at the "propaganda over wrongly interpreting his statements for a nefarious political purpose." The Minister of Road Transport and Highways has been in the news for some of his recent statements after the BJP dropped him from the party's parliamentary board.

Gadkari has warned of legal action if "such propaganda about him continues by some media houses or political bodies." Taking to twitter on Thursday, Gadkari wrote: "Today, once again, efforts are being made for a fabricated campaign against me by a section of the mainstream and social media, including some persons. They have concocted my statements at public programmes without context or correct reference." Tagging a link on YouTube of his speech, Gadkari defended himself. "Although, I have never been disturbed by such a malicious agenda, all concerned are warned that if such mischief continues, I will not hesitate to take them to court." He tagged it with BJP chief JP Nadda and the PMO. Party sources have reportedly told a section of the media that Sangh leaders had strongly appealed to Gadkari to "refrain from such type of statements at any event or programme aimed at creating confusion about the Modi government." Though Gadkari's remark did not refer directly to the government, some media houses and opposition parties have commented on the functioning of the Modi government. Gadkari at a book launch had recently said: "I am not bothered about consequences; I will do my job."

Hectic parleys on in Congress for top post, CWC meet on Sunday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AS it becomes clear that a non-Gandhi will lead the Congress, intense lobbying has begun for the top job with several names doing rounds amid reports that the elections may be pushed back from scheduled dates.

Former Congress president Rahul Gandhi has made it clear that he is not ready to lead the party and that has brought in names of several senior party leaders as probables for the top post. Sonia Gandhi has said that she can't continue due to her health and there is possibility that someone from outside the Gandhi family will be given the responsibility.

While name of Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot is doing rounds after he met Sonia Gandhi on Tuesday and that he was asked to take up the responsibility. He has denied it and sources said that he would not easily agree to it keeping in mind that the elections are due in Rajasthan next year.

Senior party leaders such as Ambika Soni, Mukul Wasnik, Meira Kumar, Sushil Kumar Shinde and Kamal Nath are among other prominent names in the fray for the top post. However, there is yet to be a consensus on who can lead the party keeping in mind upcoming assmebly elections and 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

The Congress Working Committee (CWC), the party's highest decision making body, is scheduled to meet on Sunday to announce the schedule of presidential elections.

Sources said that there is a possibility that the elections may be delayed by some time against the scheduled deadline of Sep 21.

The meeting will be held virtually as Sonia along with Rahul and Priyanka Gandhi is traveling abroad for health checkup. The party said that Rahul would be back for the September 4 rally in the national capital against price rise.

Rahul resigned as Congress chief in May 2019 after the party's debacle in the Lok Sabha elections and since then there has been no full-time president and Sonia Gandhi was officiating as interim chief.

The party is also launching 'Bharat jodo Yatra' to raise issues related to inflation, unemployment and growing communal divide in the country.

The elections are also being closely watched by leaders from G23 group.

SCO RATS

Pak to join as observer on last day: India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Notwitstanding Pakistan Foreign Office spokesperson Asim Iftikar saying a few days back that their country will take part in SCO RATS drills in India, India has said Pakistan will come as an observer on the closing day of the event.

India is hosting the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Regional Anti Terrorism Structure (RATS) drills in Manesar, Haryana, sometime in October. India is chairing the SCO RATS this year.

Pakistan is only coming as an observer for the meet on the closing ceremony. We too did the same when the SCO RATS meet was held in Pakistan,'' said Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson, Arindam Bagchi.

Diplomatic relations between India and Pakistan have been downgraded for sometime.

Just last week Pakistan's Prime Minister, Shehbaz Sharif, during a meeting with Australia's High Commissioner in Islamabad, had said he was hoping to have peace with India.

India is very clear on its stand, that there will be peace only if Pakistan stops its cross-border insurgent activities.

PEGASUS

Govt hiding deeper facts, says Oppn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CENTRE'S non-cooperation with the Supreme Court committee on Pegasus is an acceptance they had something deeper to hide as they even ran away from discussion in the Parliament, according to the Opposition parties as they slammed the Modi government.

The BJP demanded an apology from the opposition saying there was no conclusive evidence of the spyware in the 29 phones that were investigated.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said that comments of the apex court shows the centre wants to crush democracy. "PM and his government's non-cooperation with the SC appointed committee is an acceptance that they had something deeper to hide and want to crush democracy," he tweeted.

The party alleged that the government by its action has made it clear that it used the Israeli spyware to weaken democracy.

SC agrees to review PMLA verdict, issues notice to Centre

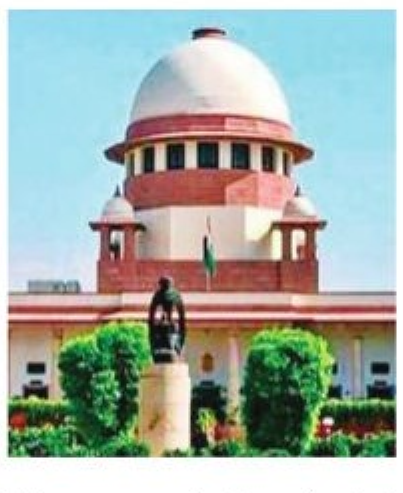
SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday agreed to relook at its verdict upholding the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) after a plea was filed by Congress MP Karti Chidambaram seeking review of the judgment that upheld the provisions of the PMLA, 2002.

The top court said this as it agreed to hear a plea seeking a review of the judgment that had upheld the Enforcement Directorate's (ED) powers relating to arrest, attachment of property involved in money laundering, search, and seizure under the PMLA. It also issued notice to the Centre

A bench led by Chief Justice of India NV Ramana said that "prima facie" the two aspects of not providing an Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) and reversal of the presumption of innocence require reconsideration.

The SC also said whatever interim protection was there in the matter, it would be extended by another four weeks and the matter would be listed before an appropriate bench.



The apex court also extended the interim protection to more than 200 petitioners for a further period of four weeks.

At the same time, a bench headed by Chief Justice N V Ramana said the object of the PMLA is noble and the offence of money laundering is serious, adding the court is completely in support of prevention of black money and money laundering and that the country cannot afford such types of offences.

Solicitor general Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, said, "We are part of a larger global structure and our law will have to be in tune with that larger global structure and that we have explained and the bench had very kindly examined that our law is in tune with not only that structure but our Constitution as well," he added.

In its July 27 verdict, the SC had observed that it is a common experience world over that money laundering can be a "threat" to the good functioning of a financial system, underlining it is not an "ordinary offence". The SC had also said that supplying of ECIR in every case to the person concerned was not mandatory.

It observed that an ECIR cannot be equated with FIR under CrPC in view of the special mechanism envisaged by the PMLA, 2002 and that authorities are "not police officers as such"

Chidambaram in the petition had argued that the judgment deserved to be reviewed on grounds of grave error and was contrary to article 20 (Protection in respect for conviction of offenses) and 21 (Protection of life and personal liberty) of the Constitution and settled principles of criminal jurisprudence.

NTA plans exam result in 10 days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE National Testing Agency (NTA) is 'targeting" to declare the CUET-UG exam result within 10 days of the last exam date, said Prof M. Jagadish Kumar.

The sixth and final phase of the Common University Entrance Test (CUET)-UG 202, which began July 15, will finally end on August 30. The final phase, which was scheduled because exams were cancelled due to technical glitches, began on August 24. "We are targeting to announce the CUET-UG results within 10 days of the last exam," Kumar told this newspaper when asked when the results of the debut CUET-UG will be announced.

He also said that the exams held on August 24 and 25 "went off well" on both the days. According to officials, the NTA is expected to declare the CUET-UG 2022 results online in the form of a scorecard.

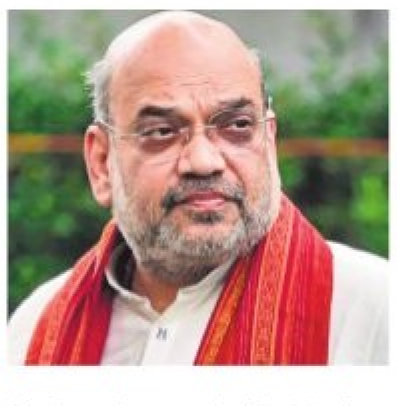
Security meet on J&K calls for timely probes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Even as cases registered under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) did not go up sharply in Jammu and Kashmir, a high-level meeting held here on Thursday to review the security situation in the Union Territory stressed on timely and effective investigation.

The security review took place in the backdrop of attacks on security personnel, infiltration bids and killings in the Union Territory. Three infiltrators were killed by security personnel along the Line of Control (LoC) in the Kamalkote sector of Uri on Thursday. There were three infiltration attempts from across the border in the last four days, including one at Pallanwala sector on August 23. On August 21, soldiers deployed in the Jhangar sector of Rajouri's Naushera spotted the movement of two to three terrorists on the Indian side of the LoC and challenged them, the officials said.

Today's meeting, chaired by Union Home Minister Amit Shah and attended by National Security Advisor Ajit Doval, Union Secretary Ajay Bhalla, J&K Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha, senior intelligence, army and police officials, decided that all the agencies involved in counterterrorism operations "should work on improving capacities for ensuring quality investigations".



While this was the first meeting on security in J&K after the conclusion of the Amarnath Yatra that ended earlier this month, Shah impressed upon the officials that the "terror eco-system comprising elements that aid, abet and sustain the terrorist-separatist campaign…requires to be dismantled".

'One Nation One Fertiliser' plan under 'Bharat' brand from Oct

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

The concept of 'One Nation-One Fertilizer' (ONOF) will be implemented from October 2. As part of the initiative, crop nutrients –urea, di-ammonium phosphate (DAP) or muriate muriate of potash (MOP) will be sold under a single brand name –'Bharat' irrespective of the manufacturing companies under the Centre's fertilizer subsidy scheme— 'Pradhanmantri Bharatiya Janurvarak Pariyojana' (PM-BJP). Conveying the decision of the Government, the ministry of chemicals and fertilizer has issued directions to all companies to use the new brand name –Bharat--and logo of the subsidy scheme on the bags. The office memorandum issued on Wednesday stated that the ministry had decided to implement ONOF the single brand name for urea, DAP, MPO and Nitrogen, Phosphorus and Potassium (NPKs) would Bharat Urea, Bharat DAP, Bharat MON and Bharat NPK for all fertilizers companies. Placement of brand name, logo and details of the manufacturing companies has also been explained in the note according to which the logo indicating fertilizer subsidy scheme will be used on fertilizer bags on one side.

New brand name and logo with subsidy title— Pradhanmantri Bharatiya Janurvarak Pariyojana—will occupy two-third of the printable area on the bag and one-third will be used for putting details of the fertilizer companies and its symbol with other information as per the rules.

According to the Government, a single brand name will help in the reduction of freight charges due to stopping of crisscross movement of fertilizers, reducing the transit time, ensuring the availability of fertilizers throughout the year irrespective of brand preferences. It will also stop the diversion of urea for industrial purposes, said officials. "Farmers prefer to purchase urea of his choice. If a certain brand is not available, he doesn't buy it even though urea is the same. And there is hue and cry that urea of a specific brand is not in the market so one of the reasons behind the idea of ONOF is to prevent these things. The Government gives a huge subsidy on these products which is more than maximum retail price therefore subsidy scheme will also be mentioned on the bag," said an official.

Warship makers: India in rare club

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH the construction of the Virat by the Cochin Shipyard Limited India has joined the select group of countries which can manufacture such complex warship above 40,000 tonnes. PM Narendra Modi is to commission this ship as INS Vikrant on September 2. "India has joined the select club of nations including the US, UK, Russia, China and France to design and manufacture aircraft carriers above 40,000 tonnes," Indian Navy Vice Chief Vice Admiral SN Ghormade said here on Thurday.

On the commissioning of the Aircraft Carrier he called the whole as a 'whole of nation' approach. For the Vikrant, the equipment has been made in 18 States and union territories including places like Ambala, Daman, Kolkata, Jalandhar, Kota, Pune and New Delhi, he said. IAC Vikrant has 2200 compartments including separate accommodation for women officers and female Agniveer sailors.

Indigenous aircraft carrier to bring stability in Indo Pacific

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

The Vice Chief of Indian Navy on Thursday termed the commissioning of the Vikrant as the Indian Navy Ship (INS) as having a stabilising effect in the Indo Pacific Region.

Vice Admiral SN Ghormade said, "The commissioning of the made-in-India aircraft carrier INS Vikrant will contribute in enhancing peace, security and stability in the Indian Ocean and Indo-Pacific region." Mentioning INS Vikramaditya, the sole Indian Aircraft Carrier in service and undergoing refit, he said, "We all know that in the Indian Ocean Region, we should have a force level which can act as a deterrent. All efforts were made to make INS Vikramaditya available fast and INS Vikrant was readied quickly," Vice Admiral Ghormade added. Talking about the maritime force levels, the Vice Chief said, "Our force levels have grown significantly over the years and I believe that we must be fully prepared to counter any challenge not only to our sovereignty and territorial integrity but even more significantly to our economic interests."

The warship has been Designed by the Warship Design Bureau (WDB), Indian Navy's in-house organisation and built by M/s Cochin Shipyard Limited (CSL), a Public Sector Shipyard under Ministry of Ports, Shipping & Waterways. With the construction of the Virat by the Cochin Shipyard Limited India has joined the select group of countries which can manufacture such complex warships above 40,000 tonnes. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is to commission this ship as Indian Naval Ship (INS) Vikrant on September 2.

The 262 m long and 62 m wide Vikrant displaces approx 43000 T when fully loaded, having a maximum designed speed of 28 Knots with endurance of 7500 NM. The ship has around 2200 compartments, designed for a crew of around 1600 that include specialised cabins to accommodate women officers and sailors. The ship would be capable of operating an air wing consisting of 30 aircraft consisting of MiG-29K fighter jets, Kamov-31, MH-60R multi-role helicopters, in addition to indigenously manufactured Advanced Light Helicopters and Light Combat Aircraft (Navy). Using a novel aircraft-operation mode known as Short Take Off But Arrested Recovery, the IAC is equipped with a ski-jump for launching aircraft, and a set of three 'arrester wires' for their recovery on board.

Docs facing action in hosp fire check other facilities

Court calls it shocking, asks MP govt law official to present facts

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

THREE government doctors facing action for lapses in inspection of a private hospital where a fire killed eight people on Aug 1 in Jabalpur were later tasked to inspect nine other hospitals of the same city in Madhya Pradesh.

The matter was brought to the notice of the Jabalpur bench of the High Court during a hearing on a petition on the fire. The HC observed on Aug 18, "It is quite shocking the manner in which the proceedings have been conducted. When orders of suspension are proposed, the same day the very persons are made members of a committee to enquire into the issue for which they are being suspended."

The court has asked the deputy advocate general to put on affidavit the facts of the case.

The doctors are anaesthesiologists Nishedh Chaudhary, LN Patel and paediatrician Kamlesh Verma – posted at Jabalpur District Hospital.

They were suspended/given show-cause notice for lapses in inspection of New Life Multi Specialty Hospital. The victims of the fire included patients and staff members.

Owing to these lapses, the then Jabalpur CMHO on Aug 2 had proposed suspending the three doctors.

As per the case file, a few hours after suspending the doctors, the CMHO included them in a team of 45 doctors that was tasked with inspecting 136 other hospitals and nursing homes in Jabalpur. The three doctors conducted the inspection of nine hospitals (three hospitals by each doctor), including a multi-specialty facility. They then submitted their report to the department.

The petition was filed by Law Students Association state president Vishal Baghel in the Aug 1 fire related matters. The HC's division bench expressed on Wednesday its displeasure in the matter and questioned why an FIR was not lodged against the three doctors who had committed lapses in the hospital's inspection.

> Dr Sanjay Mishra, Jt Director (Health)

Joint Director (Health) in Jabalpur district, Dr Sanjay Mishra, appeared to justify the permission given to the three doctors to inspect other hospitals.

"Two doctors were suspended and one was given show cause notice. They were included in the panel of 45 doctors for inspecting 136 hospitals due to staff shortage. They weren't told to inspect New Life Multi Specialty Hospital, but were asked to inspect other hospitals. They submitted their report in three days," Mishra said.

BJP targets west UP, picks Jat party chief

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

IN an apparent bid to win over the drifting Jat votes in 2024 Lok Sabha poll, the BJP on Thursday appointed Bhupendra Singh Chaudhary as the party's president in Uttar Pradesh. Chaudhary, a leader from western UP, is an MLC and Panchayati Raj Minister in the Yogi Adityanath cabinet.

Chaudhary,54, will replace Swatantra Dev Singh, who had resigned on July 27 after completing his three-year term.

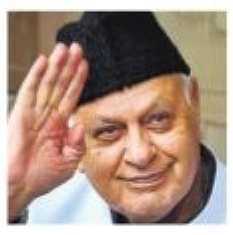
Chaudhary's appointment is being seen as the BJP's attempt to reach out to the influential Jat community, which had been at the forefront of the farmers' protest in 2021. It is also being considered as an attempt by the party to strike a regional balance in state leadership, as Yogi comes from Gorakhpur in east, while Chaudhary hails from western UP.

Chaudhury's appointment would also help the party minimise the impact of SP-RLD alliance in 2024. Hailing from Mahendri Sikandarpur village of Moradabad district, Chaudhury joined Vishwa Hindu Parishad before starting his political journey with the BJP in 1991. He became BJP regional chief in 2012 and held the post until 2017 when he became the minister in Yogi's cabinet.

Abdullah downplays talk of rift in Gupkar Alliance, urges tolerance

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

A day after his party accused the Gupkar alliance of treating it unfairly and hinted at contesting the Assembly polls in J&K alone, National Conference president Farooq Abdullah on Thursday played the firefighter, advising his party to show tolerance. He asserted that the five-party Gupkar Alliance would never be shut and that the final decision on polls will be taken when election dates are announced.



Giving advice

Talking about the feeling in National Conference that the party was treated unfairly by the Gupkar Alliance, Farooq Abdullah said, "Our endeavour should be to show tolerance."

Talking to reporters, the three-time former J&K chief minister said Gupkar Alliance is intact. Asked about passing of resolution by NC to contest all 90 Assembly seats, Abdullah said, "A democratic party can pass any resolution but the final decision will be taken only after polls are announced."

Abdullah, who is the Gupkar Alliance chairman, and PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti, the vice chairperson of the group, have in the past stated that the alliance would jointly contest the Assembly polls.

On NC's allegation that the party was treated unfairly by Gupkar Alliance, Abdullah said, "Our endeavour should be to show tolerance."

Meanwhile, PDP spokesperson Suhail Bukhari said the Alliance was conceived for a cause larger than just an electoral alliance.

"If some constituent of the Alliance has reservations for any kind of electoral alliance, that will not impact our unity for the larger goal," he said.

The Gupkar Alliance was formed in October 2020 by seven parties to fight for restoration of Articles 370 and 35A, and statehood to J&K. However, after the Peoples Conference and J&K Peoples Movement quit, it now comprises five parties — NC, PDP, CPI-M, CPI and ANC.

The NC on Wednesday hinted at going on its own in the polls after its provincial committee in presence of party vice chief Omar Abdullah decided to prepare for and fight all assembly seats in J&K.

Surname, therein lies a coincidence

Punjab Congress leader Partap Singh Bajwa took a dig at the AAP government in Punjab in a recent media interaction, saying Aam Aadmi Party leaders, who have "majra" in their surname, are caught in one controversy or the other. State health minister Chetan Singh Jouramajra misbehaved with the then vice chancellor, Dr Raj Bahadur, who later resigned, while Amargarh MLA Jaswant Singh Gajjan Majra faced CBI raids and is also under ED and I-T dept scanner. Now, AAP MLA Harmeet Singh Pathanmajra's wife has accused him of hiding his first marriage, a charge he has denied.

How jail time helped SAD leader Majithia

Former Punjab cabinet minister and Shiromani Akali Dal leader Bikram Singh Majithia, who was housed in Patiala jail until some time back for five-and-a-half months after being arrested under NDPS Act, said he learnt many lessons behind bars. During a gathering at Baba Budha Sahib Gurdwara Kathunangal in Majitha constituency, he said he got rid of many ailments, like high blood pressure and sugar, and cholesterol since he learnt about healthy lifestyle from fellow prisoner, Balwant Singh Rajoana. He said he also used to meditate in prison.

Party chief's post remains hot topic

When the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) was in power in Punjab from 2007 to 2017, the party leaders, including its president Sukhbir Singh Badal, used to say that they will remain in power for 25 years. But they lost the 2017 assembly polls and were decimated again in the assembly elections in March this year, winning just three seats. Now the party's disciplinary committee head and former minister, Sikandar Singh Maluka, says Badal will be the party president for the next 10 years. This comes amid an ongoing row as a few party leaders want him to step down from the post for the sake of the SAD's revival.

SIT summons Sukhbir in '15 Faridkot firing case

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A Special Investigation Team has summoned Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) chief Sukhbir Singh Badal on Aug 30 for questioning in the 2015 police firing on a crowd in a desecration case.

Badal was the deputy CM-cum-home minister in SAD-BJP government when incidents of desecration of religious texts and subsequent police firing on protestors took place at Kotkapura in Faridkot district.

The SIT had questioned Badal in June last year for the same incident. Many senior SAD leaders, including Bikram Singh Majithia, Balwinder Singh Bhundar, Daljit Singh Cheema and NK Sharma had gone to the institute to show support for the leader.

The SIT, led by Additional DGP LK Yadav, had earlier questioned former Punjab DGP Sumedh Singh Saini in the case.

Badal, however, said he was yet to receive the notice and promised he would cooperate in the probe. "The Congress and the current AAP government have played politics over the issue," he said.

The notice came days after the Faridkot district and sessions court said the proceedings in the Behbal Kalan firing case will not move further in the trial court until the charge sheet in the Kotkapura firing case is filed by the SIT.

This will be the first time during the AAP regime when Badal will be quizzed in the Kotkapura firing case. Two SITs have earlier questioned him thrice in this case. The SIT led by Additional DGP LK Yadav, which was formed last year in May, had questioned Badal the following month. Another SIT formed earlier under former IGP Kunwar Vijay Pratap Singh, who is now an AAP MLA, had questioned him in November 2018.

Saini was removed as the Punjab DGP by then CM Parkash Singh Badal in 2015 following incidents of sacrilege of Guru Granth Sahib and subsequent violence in which the police was accused of excesses that left two people dead.

7 districts flooded as rain batters Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE final phase of the monsoon is wreaking havoc in large parts of Rajasthan, with seven districts facing a flood-like situation. Kota, Jhalawar, Baran, Bundi Karuli and Dholpur districts are the worst affected, where around 10,000 people are being evacuated by NDRF, SDRF, and the Civil Defence Army.

Intensive and widespread rain has been lashing the desert state, and normal life has been crippled in the last few days.

An aerial view of the flood-affected areas in Kota district on Thursday | PTI

In the Kota division, over 6,000 people have had to leave their homes in the last three days. Many villages have become islands, and the rise in water level in the Chambal, Kalisindh, Parvati and Parvan rivers has led to numerous houses getting washed away. The opening of the gates of Kota barrage also caused flooding in more than 20 colonies. About 5 lakh cusecs of water was released from the barrage.

In Baran, the excessive water that came from Madhya Pradesh has caused widespread damage. The water level in Chambal river in Dholpur is flowing 15 metres above the danger mark. About 120 villages situated on the banks of Chambal river have been hit. District Collector Anil Kumar Agarwal said after the rains in Madhya Pradesh, more water is coming in the catchment area of Gandhi Sagar dam.

The district administration has started relief and rescue operations with the help of the Army and SDRF. Food and medicines are being supplied to those stranded, and livestock is also being evacuated to safer places.

Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot conducted an aerial survey of the flood-affected areas in Kota and Bundi on Thursday. "There has been extensive damage to crops and a lot of houses have collapsed. I will hold a special survey to assess the damage," he said. "The local administration, SDRF, NDRF, and Civil Defence Army have done a good job. Despite the floods in nearly 10 districts, it is a matter of relief that there have been no casualties," he added.

Heavy rain has broken many records in the state this year. Rajasthan has received 582.74 mm rain till Aug. 24 this year, in contrast to the average rainfall of 428.65 mm it gets in this time period.

2 MP districts under water

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhopal

TWO days after water levels rose in Chambal, Parvati and associated rivers, triggering floods in three districts of Gwalior-Chambal region, the situation has started improving in Sheopur district. It still remains concerning in Morena and Bhind.

Release of water from Gandhi Sagar Dam in Mandsaur and Kota Barrage in Rajasthan (both built on Chambal) has slowed, but the rising backwater in Yamuna isn't allowing draining of the Chambal in Yamuna. In Morena district, the Chambal river is flowing at 147m — 9m above the danger mark, while it is flowing at 128m in Bhind district, which is 9m above the danger mark.

Around 100 villages in the three districts are affected by floods, and 6,000 people were moved to safer places in Sheopur on Wednesday. Two NDRF and 16 SDERF teams are engaged in Bhind and Morena.

Asked to fill up visitors' slip, Assam MLA slaps govt official, faces boycott

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR
@Guwahati

ASSAM MLA Jayanta Basumatary has courted controversy by assaulting an employee of the state government at the Secretariat. Riled by the incident, the All Assam Govt NPS Employees' Association has decided to boycott Basumatary, who belongs to the United People's Party Liberal (UPPL) party, and has made an appeal to the voters of Sidli constituency not to re-elect the "impolite" politician.

The UPPL is an ally of the BJP and component of the state's three-party ruling coalition.

The incident occurred on Wednesday when the MLA visited the Secretariat to meet Transport Secretary Adil Khan. He lost his cool and slapped junior assistant, Bibhuti Bhattacharya, after the latter asked him to fill up the visitors' slip before letting him in.

> I couldn't recognise him and requested him to fill up the visitors' slip. He identified himself and said an MLA is not required to do this formality. I said this is the government protocol but he got angry and slapped me," the victim said.

> Bibhuti Bhattacharya, Govt employee

"I couldn't recognise him and requested him to fill up the visitors' slip. He identified himself and said an MLA is not required to do this formality. I said this is the government protocol but he got angry and slapped me," the victim said.

After he lodged a complaint with the employees' union, the workers staged a protest outside the Secretariat demanding action against the MLA.

"We don't want an MLA who does not have basic manners to come to the Secretariat. We appeal to the voters of Sidli not to make such a person an MLA again," the union said.

"If an employee is not safe at the Secretariat, he cannot be safe anywhere. He was assaulted for performing his duties sincerely. We appeal to Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma and the chief secretary (Jishnu Baruah) to give us justice. We will not relent," the employees' union said, adding that the victim is hearing impaired in one ear and he was hit on the other.

UPPL party president Pramod Bodo apologised for the incident.

"I have known him (Basumatary) for 25 years. He is a cool-headed person. I don't know why it has happened. I apologise for the incident," Bodo, who is also the chief of the Bodoland Territorial Council, told this newspaper.

RJD's Awadh Bihari files nomination for Speaker

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

SENIOR RJD leader Awadh Bihari Chaudhary on Thursday filed nomination for the post of Speaker in the Bihar assembly, while Devesh Chandra Thakur was elected unopposed as the chairman of the Bihar Legislative Council.

The post fell vacant after the resignation of Speaker Vijay Kumar Sinha on Wednesday.

Chaudhary had emerged as the front-runner for the post of Speaker since it was decided that the post will go to the RJD. He is considered close to both Lalu Prasad and his younger son Tejashwi Prasad Yadav.

The RJD is the largest party with 79 MLAs in the assembly. Chaudhary is tipped to be elected unopposed to the post in view of the numerical strength of the RJD-led grand-alliance in the assembly. JD(U) minister Shravan Kumar said that Choudhary would be elected as Speaker unopposed.

However, a notification issued by the assembly secretariat on Thursday said that the voting is scheduled to take place for the Speaker's post on Friday. On Wednesday, the Bihar cabinet had passed a proposal to extend the special session up to August 26.

Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, deputy chief minister Tejashwi Yadav, parliamentary affairs minister Vijay Kumar Choudhary and JD-U national president Rajiv Ranjan alias Lalan Singh and other leaders were present as the RJD nominee filed his nomination papers before the assembly secretary. Chaudhary is a six-time MLA from Siwan. He was also a minister in the Rabri Devi government. He had contested for the Speaker's post in 2020 but lost to his predecessor Vijay Kumar Sinha in a tight contest.

Meanwhile, JD (U) MLC Devesh Chandra Thakur was elected unopposed as Bihar legislative council chairman.

The BJP has nominated former Bihar assembly Speaker Vijay Kumar Sinha as leader of the opposition in the assembly, while former minister Samrat Choudhary as leader of opposition in the state legislative council, respectively.

The BJP by appointing Sinha and Choudhary has tried to woo Bhumihars (a dominant upper caste) and Kushwaha (an OBC). Both are considered as critics of Nitish. Sinha demanded two reports of the assembly's committees including ethics committee in the House on Friday. He said that special debates should be held on them. He said that the assembly's schedule fixed for Wednesday was suddenly tweaked and these reports were not tabled in the House.

Sinha said that he had also written to the assembly secretary and parliamentary affairs minister Vijay Kumar Choudhary of JD(U) in this regard.

Leader of opposition in the state legislative council Samrat Choudhary also demanded tabling of reports in the assembly on Friday.

CBI raids a 'tactic to harass the poor', says Tejashwi

Patna: As CBI raids in the land-for-jobs scam coincided with the grand alliance winning the Assembly trust vote, CM Nitish Kumar told the media to "wait," while his deputy Tejashwi Yadav accused the Centre of harassing the poor. "Just keep watching as things unfold," Nitish said. Tejashwi denied any wrongdoing, saying, " I am not going to be scared." He said his name was dragged into the Gurugram-based mall controversy though he had nothing to do with it. "I have furnished proof. Why is action not being taken against those who are selling national wealth and where drugs worth crores are found?," he asked. Tejashwi said those appointed in Group D jobs in the railways were from poor families. "We have been watching these raids for two-and-a-half decades. They (BJP) can put all opposition leaders in jail. People will fight against them," the RJD leader added.

Sunak criticises 'fear narrative' of lockdowns

LONDON

RISHI Sunak, a finalist in the race to succeed Boris Johnson as Conservative Party leader and UK PM on Thursday spoke out candidly against the 'fear narrative' and partial analyses behind the country's Covid lockdowns.

The former minister who was in charge at No. 11 Downing Street at the time revealed behind-the-scenes goings on in the corridors of power for the first time in an interview with The Spectator.

While he does not argue that lockdown was a mistake, Sunak does reveal his many misgivings, a lack of proper factoring in of the trade-offs involved in completely locking down society and suppression of dissenting views within the government.

"In every brief, we tried to say: let's stop the fear narrative. It was always wrong from the beginning. I constantly said it was wrong," he told the news magazine's editor.

Sunak was also critical of the public health posters plastered around the country at the time showing Covid patients on ventilators because 'it was wrong to scare people like that'. Sunak reiterated that his intention to speak out now was not to point a finger of blame and name anyone specific but to highlight the importance of learning lessons from the decisions that were made over the course of 2020 and 2021. PTI

25 dead in attack on Ukraine rly stn

Two kids among victims; Moscow claims target was military train

CHAPLYNE

THE death toll from a Russian rocket attack on a train station and the surrounding area as Ukraine celebrated its Independence Day climbed to 25, including at least two children, Ukrainian authorities said on Thursday. Russia said it targeted a military train and claimed to have killed more than 200 Ukrainian reservists.

The lethal train-station strike in Chaplyne, a town of about 3,500 residents in the central Dnipropetrovsk region, served as a painful reminder of Russia's continued ability to inflict suffering six months into the war.

The dead included an 11-year-old boy found under the rubble of a house and a 6-year-old killed in a car fire near the train station, authorities said.

The deputy head of the Ukrainian presidential office, Kyrylo Tymoshenko, did not say whether all of the 25 people killed were civilians.

But if they were, it would amount to one of the deadliest attacks on civilians in weeks. 31 people were reported injured.

In his nightly video address Wednesday, Zelenskyy detailed the attack and vowed: "We will definitely make the occupiers bear responsibility for everything they have done. And we will certainly drive the invaders out of our land. Not a single stain of this evil will remain in our free Ukraine."

Russia's Defence Ministry said its forces used an Iskander missile to strike a military train carrying Ukrainian troops and equipment to the front line in eastern Ukraine. The ministry claimed more than 200 reservists 'were destroyed on their way to the combat zone.'

Tetyana Kvitnytska, deputy head of the Dnipropetrovsk regional health department, said those wounded in the train station attack suffered head injuries, broken limbs, burns and shrapnel wounds.

In Moscow on Thursday, Dmitry Medvedev, the secretary of Russia's Security Council, said, Western hopes for a Ukrainian victory are futile and emphasised that the Kremlin will press home what it calls the "special military operation," leaving just two possible outcomes.

"One is reaching all goals of the special military operation and Kyiv's recognition of this outcome," Medvedev said on his messaging app channel. "The second is a military coup in Ukraine followed by the recognition of results of the special operation." AP

Putin orders military to beef up forces by 137,000

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin on Thursday ordered the Russian military to increase the number of troops by 137,000 to a total of 1.15 million amid Moscow's military action in Ukraine.

Putin's decree, which takes effect on January 1, didn't specify whether the military will beef up its ranks by drafting a bigger number of conscripts, increasing the number of volunteer soldiers or using a combination of both.

The presidential decree will boost the overall number of Russian military personnel to 2,039,758, including 1,150,628 troops.

The United States on Thursday condemned any Russian bid to divert energy from Ukraine where authorities said the giant Zaporizhzhia nuclear plant was cut off from its national grid.

"The electricity that it produces rightly belongs to Ukraine and any attempt to disconnect the plant from the Ukrainian power grid and redirect to occupied areas is unacceptable," State Department spokesman Vedant Patel said. AFP

Govt eases norms to deploy 5G infra

Telecom licencees will be able to use street infra to deploy equipment at a nominal cost

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

IN a bid to expedite the roll out of 5G networks in the country, the Department of Telecommunications announced amendments to the Right of Way (RoW) including simplifying application procedures for small cell.

As per the amendment, the telecom licencees will be able to use street infrastructure to deploy telecom equipment at a nominal cost of ₹150 annually in rural areas and ₹300 annually in urban areas. To facilitate faster fiberisation, street infrastructure may be utilised at a nominal cost of ₹100 annually to install overground optical fibre.

While announcing the change, telecom minister Ashwani Vaishnaw said that 5G requires more towers, poles, fibre, and bandwidth. Therefore, the cost of application for seeking permission to deploy telecom infrastructure has been capped in all states.

The minister also said 5G services will be launched by October and after that the government will rapidly scale up (the 5g infra) to sub-urban and rural areas. "We expect investment of about ₹2.5-3 lakh crore to come into the sector. This will lead to good employment generation," said Vaishnaw. Citing industry feedback, the minister said that investments to the tune of ₹50,000-60,000 crore have already been made, and most of the ₹3 lakh crore investment would be made in the next 18-24 months.

Claiming that the telecom industry is giving equal importance to rural areas and urban areas, he predicted that the 5G services will reach almost all parts of the country in the next 2-3 years. The Cellular Operator Association of India (COAI), a body representing all the three private telecom operators welcomed the government's move. Lt. Gen. SP Kochhar, Director General, COAI, said the amendment in the Indian Telegraph Right of Way (Amendment) Rules, 2022 will ensure speedy roll-out of the technology and make the dream of 5G enabled India come true.

"Access to the existing infrastructure, deployment of new infrastructure, and the high cost involved in it were major challenges the telecom sector always came across which will now be eased down," he added. Jaideep Ghosh, COO in law firm Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas said bringing RoW on a single platform, along with other elements of telecom networks, is a leapfrog step for India.

Cost to deploy telecom infra capped in all states

NewDelhi: Ashwani Vaishnaw said that 5G requires more towers, poles, fibre, and bandwidth. Therefore, the cost of application for seeking permission to deploy telecom infrastructure has been capped in all states

Now, S&P Ratings points at high debts of Adanis

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

YET another rating agency has raised flags against the high debts of Adani Group. S&P Global Ratings on Thursday said that Asia's richest billionaire Gautam Adani's group, which has grown on acquisitions, has fairly solid fundamentals but debt-funded future acquisitions can start putting pressure on ratings.

"If you look at the rated entities (of Adani group), like Adani Ports, their business fundamental is fairly solid. Port business is generating healthy cash flows. Where, probably, the risk could lie for the group is, some of the acquisitions it is doing. Some of the recent acquisitions that we are seeing are largely debt-funded and that is taking away the headroom," S&P Global Ratings Senior Director (Infrastructure Ratings) Abhishek Dangra said at a webinar.

He added any future acquisition that the group does at the current pace can start putting pressure on its ratings.

Adani Group recently forayed into the cement sector with a $10.5 billion acquisition of Holcim's India units (ACC and Ambuja Cemennt), plans to set up a 4.1 mtpa integrated alumina refinery and a 30 mtpa iron ore beneficiation plant in Odisha that could cost over ₹58,000 crore among other things. Most of this expansion has been funded by debt. The Group's combined gross debt reached a new high of ₹2.22 lakh crore at the end of FY21-22, up 42% from ₹1.57 lakh crore a year ago. "Currently we see that the risks can be managed if the group manages the growth ambitions or the fundings," said Dangra.

SINGTEL TO SELL 3.3% AIRTEL STAKE TO SUNIL MITTAL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

SINGTEL (Singapore Telecommunications Ltd.) has decided to sell its 3.3% stake in Bharti Airtel to Bharti Enterprises Chairman Sunil Mittal for an amount of ₹12,900 crore.

With this deal, Singtel's holding in Bharti Airtel will come down to 29.7% from 31.4%. The Mittal family's current effective holding in Bharti Airtel is 24.13%. The stake sale by Singtel comes as part of a broader restructuring by Singtel. It had last month offloaded its stake partly in Airtel Africa

"Singtel and its affiliates have entered into an agreement to transfer 3.33% shares to BTL (Bharti Telecom Limited) for an aggregate amount of about SGD 2.25 billion, leaving direct shareholding of Singtel and Bharti in Airtel at 10% and 6%, respectively. The acquisition is to be completed over a period of 90 day," said Bharti Airtel in a statement.

Singtel and Bharti Group have been partners for over two decades and the Singapore-based communication technology group is divesting a portion of its stake to fund its 5G capex and other growth plans over the next few years.

The Mittal family and Singtel are co-investors in Bharti Telecom, the promoter holding companies in Bharti Airtel with 50.56% and 49.44%, respectively. Additionally, the Mittal family and Singtel directly own 6.04% and 13.8% stakes, respectively, in Airtel. Bharti Airtel's current market capitalisation is over ₹4.15 trillion.

Airtel share closed nearly 0.28% lower at 736.6 on Thursday on the BSE. In the last one month, the company's share has appreciated 7.68%. After the announcement of the deal, Airtel's share rose substentially, but it fell soon after on close.

LOAN APPS

Google removes 2K lending apps from PlayStore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

GOOGLE has removed more than 2,000 loan apps from its Android Play Store since January 2022, as these apps did not meet with the company's policy.

"These two thousand apps were from India's playstore. If the app doesn't meet our goal or it doesn't meet our policy, we are going to act on it," said Saikat Mitra, senior director, and head of trust and safety at Google Asia-Pacific.

Mitra further said the company collects the data itself, evaluates and then collates it from offline, third-party sources. This information could include details such as acts of customer harassment over phone calls made by these instant loan service providers.

Google was forced to take action after several started surfacing regarding instant loan apps on mobile app stores. These instant loan apps usually target people from low-income groups by offering loans of anywhere between ₹2,000 and ₹10,000. They charge a high interest rate, as high as 50% per annum.

As per an Reserve Bank India (RBI) estimate, there were over 1,100 such apps available for Indian Android users across 80 application stores (till last year). According to RBI, out of these as many as 600 were illegal apps. ED is believed to be investigating over 300 of them.

Delhi HC rejects WhatsApp, Facebook appeals against CCI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Delhi High Court on Thursday dismissed appeals filed by Facebook (now known as Meta) and WhatsApp against the Competition Commission of India (CCI)'s decision for a probe into WhatsApp's updated privacy policy of 2021.

A bench of Chief Justice Satish Chandra Sharma and Justice Subramonium Prasad said the appeals were devoid of merits. This refusal now paves the way for the CCI to proceed with its investigation.

WhatsApp and its parent company Facebook had appealed challenging a single-judge bench order which allowed CCI to proceed with a probe against the platform's updated privacy policy 2021.

The judge had said that although it would have been prudent for the CCI to await the outcome of the petitions in the Supreme Court and the Delhi HC against WhatsApp's new privacy policy, not doing so would not make the regulator's order perverse or wanting of jurisdiction.

In January 2021, the CCI had decided to look into WhatsApp's updated privacy policy based on news reports, as the messaging platform's policy would allow it to share data concerning user interaction with its parent company Facebook. This was violative of the Competition Act 2020.

Instant messaging platform WhatsApp said it voluntarily agreed to put on hold the policy till a data protection law is enacted. The CCI had contended that WhatsApp has not stopped the implementation of its contentious privacy policy. It said that sharing of data would give undue advantage to WhatsApp and its parent company.

It said that dealing with WhatsApp's new privacy policy could lead to excessive data collection of consumers.

Neelambera Sandeepan, Partner, Lakshmikumaran and Sridharan Attorneys said, "The High Courts and the Supreme Court have been quite clear that they will not interfere with the CCI's order to investigate anti-competitive practices. This order is in-line with the Courts' precedents."

He said, "Given that the CCI's process of investigation does not determine the rights of the parties involved, this position prevents the parties from stalling the investigation by use of judicial process."

Ex-CEA K Subramanian appointed ED IMF

NEWDELHI: The government on Thursday appointed former chief economic advisor Dr. Krishnamurthy Subramanian as executive director (India) of the international monetary fund (IMF) with effect from November 1, 2022.

He will be taking over current ED Surjit Bhalla, whose tenure was cut short by 9 days. Bhalla's had joined IMF executive board on 9 November 2019 for three-year period. ENS

Rupee falls by 6 paise to 79.92 against dollar

NEWDELHI: The rupee declined by 6 paise to close at 79.92 after moving in a narrow range against the US dollar on Thursday due to firm crude oil prices and losses in the domestic equity markets. A weak dollar in the overseas arkets ahead of a speech by the US Federal Reserve chief on Friday and forex inflows into equities helped the local unit restrict losses. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the domestic currency opened at 79.80 per dollar. PTI

Ethereum set for upgrade, experts advise users to be alert for scam

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE most-hyped Ethereum Merge, one of the most anticipated ones in the crypto industry, is all set to be completed by September 20. This is said to be a milestone in blockchain technology and that it will bring in significant changes and upgrades to the Ether protocol.

Ethereum, the largest smart contract capable blockchain, is transitioning from Proof-of-Work (PoW) consensus method of setting transactions to Proof-of-Stake (PoS). This technical upgrade to the blockchain is known as The Merge. This upgrade has been in talks for many years now as Ethereum is the second largest cryptocurrency after Bitcoin.

"The upgrade is crucial as it cuts down over 99% of energy consumption which can take it away from the radar of governments trying to impose duties on energy-intensive mining," explained Edul Patel, CEO and co-founder of Mudrex, a crypto investing platform.

The crypto has cleared its resistance at $1,650 and started travelling towards $1,800. Ethereum might also surge above the $2,000 level in the coming days before the Merge, he added.

This will set the stage for further scalability upgrades bringing Ethereum one step closer to achieving the full scale, security and sustainability outlined in its Ethereum vision, said Rajagopal Menon, Vice President, WazirX. He added that as we approach The Merge of Ethereum mainnet, we advice the users to be on high alert for scams trying to take advantage of users during this transition.

Talking about it, Arjun Reddy, CTO, Guardian Link said once the merge has occurred, mining will be truly democratised and that no industrial equipment or megawatt level power will be required.

According to the Ethereum Foundation, The Merge represents the joining of the existing execution layer of Ethereum (the mainnet we use today) with its new PoS consensus layer, the Beacon Chain.

Merger of one of the original blockchain systems might be saddening for investors globally as Ethereum is considered a brand in itself, said Sathvik Vishwanath, Co-Founder & CEO, Unocoin.

However, he added that this is a progressive step towards making crypto and decentralisation globally acceptable, and creating and managing makes it easier for backward countries with limited power supply.

What is The Merge and what upgrade it is doing

Govt says I-T refunds up 78%; denies reports of delay

DIPAK MONDAL @New Delhi

AMID delays in income tax refunds, the government has said that refunds issued so far this year are far more than the corresponding period of the preceding year.

The income tax department told TNIE that for FY 22-23, refunds of ₹93,618 have been issued up to August 24, 2022, compared to refunds of ₹52,408 issued in the corresponding period of the preceding year, marking an increase of over 78%. Many income tax professionals and lawyers TNIE talked to said that there has been delays in refunds in many cases, but they could not pinpoint the reason for the delay.

"Returns processing takes place at CPC Bengaluru. Issue is there in their process. Not sure what protocols they follow, but it (refund) is being delayed this year," said a chartered accountant.

Another tax professional told TNIE that despite the I-T department's claim that they are issuing refunds in 7-10 days from the day of return fillings, they have not been able to do so in many cases. In many cases, the processing of the return is taking a lot longer– almost a month -- even if there are no anomalies in the return.

Bank credit in Apr-Jun grows 14.2%, highest since Dec 2016 quarter

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BANK credit offtake in the April-June 2022 period grew at 14.2%, registering the highest quarterly growth since the December 2016 quarter.

RBI data shows credit offtake in urban and metropolitan areas grew at a healthy 18%, and 13.2%, respectively. Rural and Semi-urban areas also saw double-digit credit growth of 11.6% and 15.3%, respectively. Public sector banks, which account for most of the large corporate and infrastructure sector lending, saw their loan portfolio grow by 11.5%, the first quarterly double-digit growth in over 5 years. Private sector banks reported a healthy 18% growth during the quarter.

Double-digit credit growth in a quarter is piece of good news for the economy as it hints at revival in capex as well as retail consumption. It gets even better for the second quarter in a row, the credit offtake showed double-digit growth. In the March quarter, credit offtake had grown by 10.8%. The last time credit growth had registered a double-digit growth in 2 or more consecutive months was 3 years ago in the April-June 2022 quarter. Analysts feel while the corporate sector is still cautious of capex and hence slow in absorbing credit, it is the SME and retail sector that will drive the credit growth. In a recent report Kotak Securities said many PSU banks have turned more constructive on growing their balance sheet because outlook on asset quality has improved.

Flexible hours, WFH will be future need: PM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FLEXIBLE work hours, particularly for women, will be the future need along with flexible workplaces and work-from-home, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Thursday addressing the two-day long Labour Ministers conference being held in Tirupati.

"We can use systems like flexible workplaces as opportunities for women labour force participation," he said. "By making the right use of women power, India can achieve its goals faster," said the Prime Minister.

He also noted that the Emergency Credit Guarantee Scheme, according to a study, saved 1.5 crore jobs during the pandemic.

Govt amends law to enable wheat export ban

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Thursday approved a proposal for amendment of the policy of exemption for wheat from export restrictions, which will enable the authorities to put restrictions on the export of the grain.

The government believes the decision will ensure food security for 1.4 billion people of the country. "The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, chaired by the Prime Minister Narendra Modi, has approved the proposal for amendment of policy of exemption for wheat or meslin flour (HS Code 1101) from export restrictions/ ban," said the government in a statement. Earlier, there was a policy not to prohibit or put any restrictions on the export of wheat flour. However, the conflict between Russia and Ukraine led to the global wheat supply chain disruptions, increasing demand for Indian wheat.

As a result, the price of wheat in the domestic market increased. "The approval will now allow a restriction on the export of wheat flour, which will ensure a curb on rising prices of the staple and ensure food security of the most vulnerable sections of the society," said the government.

Due to the prohibition on export of wheat (which was done to put a check on increasing prices in domestic market and ensure food security), the demand for wheat has increased in foreign markets and its exports have registered a growth of 200% during April-July 2022 as against the corresponding period in 2021.

Lewandowski to face old club Bayern in CL

Bayern Munich were placed in the same section as Robert Lewandowski's Barcelona in Thursday's draw for the UEFA Champions League group stage in Istanbul. They will also come up against Inter Milan in Group C, which is completed by Viktoria Plzen. Reigning champions Real Madrid will face Celtic as well as RB Leipzig and Shakhtar Donetsk in Group F. This season's group stage will begin with the first round of games on September 6 and 7.

I deserve to be the president of AIFF: Bhaichung

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

"I thoroughly deserve to be the president."

- Bhaichung Bhutia

SOMETIMES words are enough to describe a man's belief. The excitement in his voice was palpable. There was a tenor of seriousness and a tinge of anxiety when he spoke about his chances of winning an election that is loaded against him. But his fearsome spirit of not giving up that was visible during his playing days is still giving hope. Former India skipper Bhaichung Bhutia believes he is the harbinger of change that Indian football needs.

The All India Football Federation (AIFF) election is getting interesting. What appeared to be quite an one-sided affair with Kalyan Chaubey, a former India international and a ruling BJP leader from West Bengal, being the front runner, things changed after Bhutia threw his hat in the ring. With government supporting top players to actively join sports administration, Bhutia's candidature may make things a little complicated.

"I feel this a great opportunity to usher in change in Indian football and its management," Bhutia told his daily on Thursday. "I would like to make football in the country more vibrant and help to take it to new heights. I have ample experience in sports administration and my expertise would help."

Bhaichung Bhutia

Bhutia owns a football team and is also involved with Sikkim Football Federation.

"I don't need any motivation to get into something that will help the sport grow," he said. "The sport is my life. It has given me everything and I firmly believe that this is the best thing I can do. I have given my life to football and I want to give back to the sport."

Until Wednesday, the nomination for AIFF elections seemed pretty straightforward. Since the 36 players' names have been scrapped from the electoral college, there were speculations over Bhutia's candidature. With Bhutia's name proposed and seconded by two states — Andhra Football Association and Rajasthan Football Association — the plot has thickened and become more intriguing. As things stand, most of the state units are still backing Chaubey and until Wednesday, election looked unanimous.

As soon as Bhutia entered the contest, because of his name and stature, there is a small pause. Not a deathly pause, but one that would give the contestants and supporters time to redraw their plans. The state units that had called for a media interaction to spell out their intent — apparently for a unanimous election — hit a roadblock. The word number doesn't rattle Bhutia much either. "I am not perturbed. It is up to them (state units) now. All I know is what I have done for the sport and it is time they think about it. What I can bring in to the table and how I can help the sport grow too. Hopefully, they will realise it. The SC had earlier said that there should be 50 per cent reservation and I hope and feel this should happen in future." said the 45-year-old.

Gaurav busy shaping young golfers

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

THERE has been a familiar face competing at the TNGF Cosmo golf course in Chennai. Gaurav Ghei, one of the country's original poster boys in golf. In 1996, he had become the first from the country to feature at a Major (The Open) at a time when not many knew there was a Major in the sport. He's also one of the first to have won on the Asian Tour. Thanks to the passage of time, he is now content playing on the PGTI, where he's not a regular. He says 'I'm not a full-time player' (one of the last tournaments he played was a senior players' event in Thailand).

When he's not looking for the best angles for his tee shot, Ghei, 53, also wears other caps: coach and an administrator. It's obvious that he's excited about his second career. "We are seeing a change in the attitude (about golf) not just among the corporates but in the government also," he says. "I'm involved with the Delhi Golf Society which is the state body for New Delhi. We have just started a junior excellence programme and it has received some funding from the government. I met the sports secretary and she has sanctioned ₹25 lakh for junior golf development. People are now more aware.

"I'm very excited to be part of something like this where you are seeing junior golfers coming up (he's general secretary at the Society). I know what it's like to play with a care-free attitude, knowing you have a good support system in place."

That support system he mentions is one reason why he cherishes the special Chennai connect. He has been sponsored by India Cements since 1993. "Mr N Srinivasan started sponsoring me since 1993, I have been an employee since 1996. What makes it more special is I have never had another sponsor.

"Chennai is also special because I remember playing a tournament here as an amateur in 1990. I finished second and that's really what gave me the belief that I could play as a professional."

Ghei has seen better days and tournaments. His score for the tournament is a three-over, putting him on tied-48th. But then Ghei, by his own admission, isn't a 'full-time player'. He will keep playing till the fire is burning bright but he's already identified a new challenge for himself. Shaping the fortunes of the next-gen.

Thangaraja sole leader with one round to go

On an excellent day for golf, N Thangaraja struck one of the 11 eagles to jump into sole lead with just one round to go at the PGTI Chennai Open. The Sri Lankan returned a solid five-under 67 to be on -16, one ahead of India's Manu Gandas. To go with the eagle on the par 5 fourth hole, the 41-year-old Thangaraja struck two bogeys in the out nine but four birdies in the in nine kept him on top of the leaderboard.

LEADERBOARD (AFTER THREE RDS, TOP FIVE): 1. N Thangaraja -16, 2. Manu Gandas -15, Abhijit Chadha -14, Karandeep Kochhar - 12, 5. Khalin Joshi -11.

GUWAHATI: Army Green wasted chances in the second half to play out a goalless draw against Sudeva Delhi FC in their Group D Durand Cup match here at the Indira Gandhi Athletic Stadium on Thursday. Meanwhile, heavyweights East Bengal were held to a goal-less draw by Rajasthan United in a fast-paced Durand Cup match at the Kishore Bharati Krirangan (KBK).

Jehan hopes to get his F2 campaign back on track

SPA-FRANCORCHAMPS: Indian racer Jehan Daruvala will be heading to the iconic Spa-Francorchamps track this weekend hoping his Prema Racing team has turned the page on its recent struggles as the Formula 2 championship returns from the summer break. "I've had a good break at home with my family and I feel rested, rejuvenated and ready to go," Jehan said.

Erigaisi wins Abu Dhabi International

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

FOR much of the ninth game at the Abu Dhabi International Chess Festival, Arjun Erigaisi had made his peace. Another of the teens taking the world of chess by storm, Erigaisi needed a win on the final day to win the event.

He had already scaled a few peaks over the last month — a silver medal on Board 3 at the Olympiad and crossing an ELO rating of 2700 to name a few — and a title in Abu Dhabi would have elevated the dessert to a MasterChef-worthy product. Just one problem. Spain's David Guijarro was proving to be an obdurate opponent. But he blundered with his king in the 63rd move. Erigaisi, with white pieces, spotted the error and smothered his opponent. Four moves later, the 18-year-old made the Spaniard yield. His last month has propelled him to No 24 in the world with an live rating of 2724.6.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Outsiders to medal contenders, Dhruv & Arjun move upwards

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

WITH PV Sindhu missing and three main contenders in the same half of the men's singles draw, the build-up to the BWF World Championships, as far as Indian supporters were concerned, was a damper. But despite that, the contingent boasted some promising players who could spring a surprise or two.

MR Arjun and Dhruv Kapila's, playing in the marquee event for the second time together, run so far is a case in point. The second-ranked Indian men's doubles pair, relatively a new face on the elite circuit, have notched up three wins with their latest victory coming on Thursday. More notably, they now have a chance to become pathbreakers by becoming the first men's pair from the country to medal at the event.

After upsetting the eight-seeded Danish pair of Kim Astrup and Anders Skaarup Rasmussen in the second round, the Indian duo put up another fighting show to overcome Singapore's Hee Yong Kai Terry and Loh Kean Hean 18-21, 21-15, 21-16 in the third round, thereby ensuring a spot in the quarterfinals.

The Indian duo are reaping the benefits of facing some of the elite players in the circuit in recent times. They had been playing with an open mind and learning on the job under the guidance of India's doubles coach Mathias Boe.

"In the past six months or so, we have played top-10 players on a regular basis. We have lost close matches. We think we are very close, but I think we need more experience. We have to learn to cope during crucial situations of the match and we are working on it right now," Dhruv had told this daily after the Thomas Cup success.

Thursday was a tight contest and they were on the backfoot after conceding the first game. What followed was evidence that the duo had learnt a great deal from recent experiences. The duo, who joined hands in 2019, retained their calm and bounced back immediately to level the tie. They were happy to engage in long rallies, forcing their opponents into making mistakes. With momentum on their side, Dhruv and Arjun had found a template to follow. They continued to stay calm and were ready to defend what was thrown at them with some sharp play in front of the net. They also unleashed some big smashes, winning crucial points in the process. In the end, Dhruv killed the contest with a perfect smash. They'll need that killer instinct when they take on Mohammad Ahsan and Hendra Setiawan of Indonesia.

PRANNOY BEATS LAKSHYA

Upbeat after beating former World No 1 Kento Momota, HS Prannoy had another stiff test on Thursday. He was up against a familiar face in Lakshya Sen. Prannoy won 17-21, 21-16, 21-17 to advance to quarterfinals and will take on Zhao Jun Peng of China next. Saina Nehwal, meanwhile, went down fighting (21-17, 16-21, 21-13) against Thailand's Busanan Ongbamrungphan.

LOOKING FOR SWEET SPOT IN DESERT

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

JUST a tad short of 10 months since they exited the 2021 World Cup in the United Arab Emirates, India – with a different attitude and approach – are back again in Dubai for the Asia Cup. Of course, much has changed since then. There is a new captain, a new head coach and over the past 10 months have shown the world, they can play in a different gear and are not just one-dimensional.

For a team that struggled to set the tone while batting first, they have done a course correction, often pushing their limits. They have rotated their players; have brought in role-specific players who could give them an extra edge over the opponents; have scored quicker (9.24 runs per over) in the last 10 months than they did between 2016 T20 World Cup to the 2021 World Cup, where they scored only at 8.66. Their average runs per wicket has declined by 1.49 runs, which shows the batters are taking more risk than before, yet getting the desired results. Their strike-rate which was 135.95 between the last editions of the World Cup has now gone up to 143.49 while batting first. Which is why, with another T20 World Cup around the corner, there is newfound belief and hope.

Since the last T20 World Cup, India have gone from a set template to having a more flexible one which has seen them use Deepak Hooda, Suryakumar Yadav, Rishabh Pant, Hardrik Pandya, Dinesh Karthik – all in squad for Asia Cup beginning Saturday – who all have brought a much needed different approach and attitude that was lacking in T20Is.

And yet, when India walk out for their opening match against Pakistan on Sunday, their top seven could be the same: Rohit Sharma, KL Rahul, Virat Kohli, Suryakumar, Pant, Jadeja, Pandya. But more importantly, India will retain the same top three, who not too long ago, were seen as one-dimensional anchor batters weighing the team down.

Among the three, since the last World Cup, only skipper Rohit has played more matches and has been keen on setting the tone early by being an enforcer at the top. Rahul hasn't played a T20I since November and Kohli has played only four. And barring any significant changes, India will have the same top-three for the T20 World Cup Down Under.

They have invested heavily in this approach over the last 10 months. But how well their top three – who are yet to be tested together – respond at the Asia Cup will give answers to India if they want to make any changes ahead of the World Cup. In the past Rahul has shown he can more than just be an accumulator and be aggressive at the top, but he has seldom done it on a consistent basis. Kohli, on the other hand, has never been the aggressor per se, but against England showed he is willing to play a game that he isn't entirely used to.

Come Sunday, the pressure invariably will be on these two, particularly because, in their absence, the likes of Suryakumar, Hooda and Karthik have done more than enough to make a strong case for their inclusion in the XI. Out of the three, only Suryakumar is assured of a place in the XI. By keeping Rahul and Kohli in the top three, India have reposed their faith in them, whether that works or not, the next fortnight will tell. Over to Dubai.

PROBLEMS ARE NOT STOP SIGNS, THEY ARE GUIDELINES

ROBERT H SCHULLER

A crippling drought exacerbated by a record heatwave has spread across half of China and reached the normally frigid Tibetan Plateau, according to official data released ahead of more searing temperatures

A group that represents cultural organisations in Germany criticised climate activists for gluing themselves to the frames of famous paintings in museums

WALKING ON TWO FEET

The new research on the limb bones demonstrates that walking on two feet was its "preferred mode of getting around, depending on the situation," he told a press conference. But they also sometimes moved through the trees

EXFILE • RESEARCH

Oldest human relative walked upright 7 mn years ago: study

The earliest known human ancestor walked on two feet as well as climbed through trees around seven million years ago, scientists said after studying three limb bones

HOW A SAHELANTHROPUS LIVED

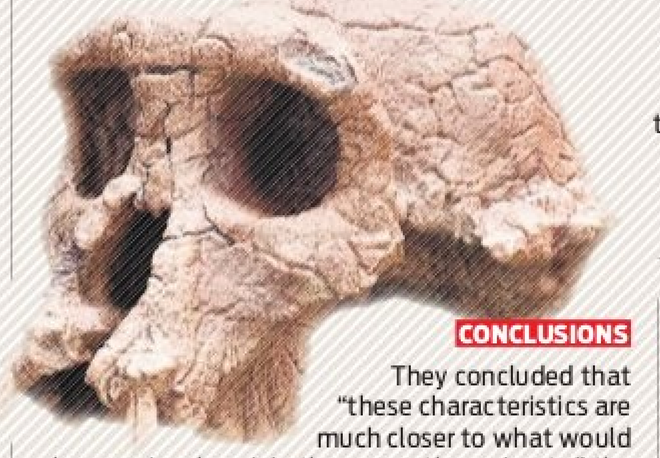
The Sahelanthropus lived in an area with a combination of forests, palm groves and tropical savannahs, meaning that being able to both walk and climb through trees would have been an advantage

23 CHARACTERISTICS

After years of testing and measuring the bones, they identified 23 characteristics which were then compared to fossils from great apes as well as hominins—which are species more closely related to humans than chimpanzees

SAHELANTHROPUS TCHADENSIS

When the skull of Sahelanthropus tchadensis was discovered in Chad in 2001, it pushed back the age of the oldest known representative species of humanity by a million years



TOUMAI

Nicknamed "Toumai", the nearly complete cranium was thought to indicate that the species walked on two feet because of the position of its vertebral column and other factors

A FIERCE DEBATE

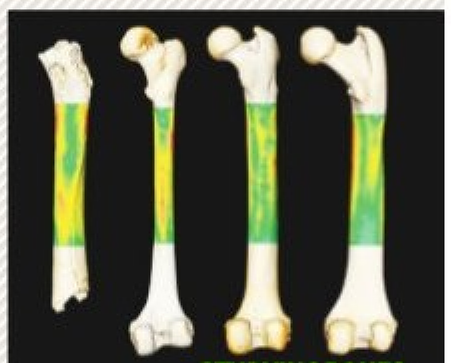
However the subject triggered fierce debate among scientists, partly due to the scarcity and quality of the available bones, with some even claiming that Toumai was not a human relative but just an ancient ape

CONCLUSIONS

They concluded that "these characteristics are much closer to what would be seen in a hominin than any other primate," the study's lead author said. For example, the forearm bones did not show evidence that the Sahelanthropus leaned on the back of its hands, as is done by gorillas and chimpanzees

UNABLE TO DETERMINE

The leg and arm bones were found alongside thousands of other fossils in 2001, and the researchers were not able to confirm that they belonged to the same individual as the Toumai skull



STUDYING BONES

In a study published in the Nature journal on Wednesday, a team of researchers exhaustively analysed a thigh bone and two forearm bones found at the same site as the Toumai skull

"The skull tells us that Sahelanthropus is part of the human lineage," said paleoanthropologist Franck Guy, one of the authors of the study

COMPLETE IMAGE OF TOUMAI

Paleoanthropologist Antoine Balzeau said the "extremely substantial" study gives "a more complete image of Toumai and therefore of the first humans"

OUR 'BUSHY' FAMILY TREE

It also bolstered the theory that the human family tree is "bushy", and was not like the "simplistic image of humans who follow one another, with abilities that improve over time," Balzeau, who was not involved in the research said

ABILITY TO ADAPT

Researchers emphasised that what made Sahelanthropus human was its ability to adapt to its environment. "Bipedalism (walking on two legs) is not a magical trait that strictly defines humanity," paleontologist Jean-Renaud Boisserie said

Now, fertiliser poses a risk as grain prices drop

Price of wheat reached a peak in mid-May, double the level last year

AGRICULTURE

PARIS: Grain prices have dropped sharply from the record highs they reached following Russia's invasion of Ukraine, but another menace to global food security remains: a shortage of fertiliser.

The conflict sparked fears of famine in poorer countries reliant on agricultural goods from Ukraine and Russia, two nations that were responsible for nearly a third of global wheat exports last year.

Wheat prices reached a peak of nearly 440 euros a tonne on the European market in mid-May, double the level of one year ago, as crucial Ukrainian shipments were stuck at port due to a Russian naval blockade in the Black Sea.

But prices have fallen to around 300 euros in August.

"The situation began to calm down at the end of May, beginning of June with the first reassuring harvest forecasts for Europe and the resumption of Ukrainian exports, first by road and rail, then by sea," said Gautier Le Molgat, analyst at consultancy Agritel.

Kyiv and Moscow reached an agreement in July, brokered by the United Nations and Turkey, that allowed Ukraine to resume grain shipments in the Black Sea. The agreement opened a shipping corridor for 20 million tonnes of maize, wheat and sunflower seed oil stocked in Ukraine.

According to the Joint Coordination Centre which manages the sea corridor, more than 720,000 tonnes have already left Ukraine.

"Thanks to intensive international cooperation, Ukraine is on track to export as much as four million metric tonnes of agricultural products in August," a senior US State Department official said on Tuesday.

In addition to more supplies reaching markets and helping lower prices, the deal has led to a drop in insurance premiums, reducing transport costs.

But the reduction in tensions is, for the moment, benefitting Ukraine more than Russia, which is expecting a bumper harvest of 88 million tonnes of wheat.

Russian wheat exports in July and August are running 27% lower than last year, according to estimates by the Russian market research firm SovEcon.

That is due to fierce competition on the international grain market, as well as the strong value of the ruble and a high Russian export tax.

"As a result, farmers remain reluctant sellers," said Andrei Sizov, SovEcon's the managing director.

The low volume of Russian exports is one of the main reasons why wheat prices have remained so high, said Sizov.

FERTILISER COSTS A GROWING PROBLEM

One of the reasons prices have not come down further is the surge in energy prices, due to the post-pandemic recovery and the war. Higher oil prices impact transportation costs, while natural gas is a feedstock for manufacturing the chemical fertilisers that most farmers now use. With European gas prices soaring above 300 euros per megawatt hour, compared to an average of 20 euros over the past decades, "we've got a big problem as it's untenable for ammonia manufacturers," said Nicolas Broutin, head of the French subsidiary of Yara, the Norwegian firm which is Europe's largest fertiliser producer. Yara announced Thursday it was reducing once again its production in Europe of ammonia, which is made using hydrogen obtained from natural gas and which provides the nitrogen in synthetic fertilisers. The firm will only be using 35 % of its production capacity in Europe.

Ex-exec's info gives Musk lawyer a shot

TECH

SAN FRANCISCO: Elon Musk's lawyers jumped Wednesday on the revelations of a Twitter whistleblower to try to force the platform to surrender vast amounts of information for their fight to cancel the billionaire's buyout bid.

The Tesla boss's team told a US judge the former Twitter security chief's allegations of major security gaps and problematic practices had bolstered their case, which has struggled for momentum in court.

Musk has tried to back out of the $44 billion agreement by saying Twitter misled him on the number of false or spam accounts, prompting strong denials and a lawsuit from the social media firm.

Musk attorney Alex Spiro cited Twitter whistleblower Peiter Zatko in a 90-minute hearing on what data the firm should be forced to handover ahead of their October trial. "The way Mr. Zatko puts it, management had no appetite to properly measure the prevalence of bot accounts," Spiro told Judge Kathaleen McCormick.

Twitter won some early battles in the case, including a fast-track trial date, and its stock had risen as analysts have predicted the platform would prevail over the mercurial billionaire.

Yet Zatko's whistleblower complaint to US authorities, which surfaced on Tuesday, has been seized upon by Musk's attorneys to try to gain momentum in the case.

Spiro tried to convince the judge to order Twitter to hand over billions of "data points," including user phone numbers and locations, arguing the information is needed to prove Twitter was dishonest about spam accounts. Twitter lawyer Bradley Wilson countered that the company deceived nobody, and that Musk wants a "do-over" regarding questions he should have asked before he made his unsolicited buyout offer early this year.

Twitter pointed out that Musk opted not to perform due diligence seen in merger deals, Spiro said he trusted the firm's filings with Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Illegal road threatens Amazon

ENVIRONMENT

An illegal dirt road ripping through protected areas in the Brazilian Amazon is now just a few miles shy of connecting two of the worst areas of deforestation in the region, according to satellite images and accounts from people. If the road is completed it will turn a large area of remaining forest into an island, under pressure from human activity on all sides. Environmentalists have been warning about just this kind of development in the rainforest for decades. Roads are significant because most deforestation occurs alongside them, where access is easier and land value higher. On the east side of the new road is a massively-deforested area where Brazil's largest cattle herd, now grazes. This municipality of Sao Felix do Xingu is country's second-largest greenhouse gas emitter, thanks to deforestation, according to Climate Observatory.
